STATEMENT

This year the race for the governorship of Alaska is like no other in our state's history. The opportunity we have for ourselves and for generations of Alaskans to come is unique as well.

We are the wealthiest state. We can become the wealthiest people.

We have the smallest population. We can have the most responsive government.

We have the most beautiful land. We can have the best society.

But we shouldn't tolerate ineptitude, weakness or pessimism in the process. In fact, we can't if we're going to succeed.

With faith, not fear, we can harvest timber, farm the sea, raise the crops, drill for oil and still maintain the quality of life, the pioneer values and independence of spirit which make Alaska such a special place to live. We can do it and do it right in Alaska.

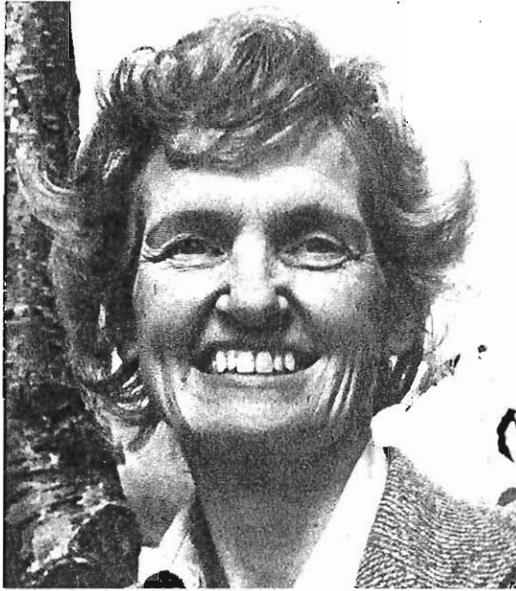

I know what I want Alaska to be — proud of its uniqueness, aggressive about its opportunities, determined about its destiny. I know why I want to be Governor — because it's time we made Alaska the best place in the world to live and work.

STATEMENT

Alaska needs Democratic leadership, Democratic sensitivity, Democratic values. It needs a Democratic governor.

I want to be that governor's working partner.

I want to use my experience in the executive and legislative branches to help him do the job Alaskans need done.

The issues are:

- development that respects our environment;
- payrolls without loss of Alaskans' lifestyle;
- the Permanent Fund's beneficial permanence for all Alaskans;

- education and opportunity for the young;
 - fulfilling lives, cause for hope, human dignity for all.
- That means jobs, resource utilization, growth within acceptable bounds.

I know Alaska, have the background in government, in education, among minorities, in business, and in basic resources. I have the ability to motivate state government; to assist and backstop the governor.

Lifelong Alaskan, mother, businesswoman, statewide public policy administrator, I know how to get things done.

For effective, caring state leadership, Katie Hurley as lieutenant governor will strengthen a Democratic administration.

STATEMENT

Governor Hammond feels strongly that Alaska belongs to all Alaskans, not just the wealthy or influential. He believes policy goals must assure that all Alaskans prosper. Governor Hammond believes most Alaskans want:

- freedom to choose a lifestyle designed to one's own blueprints;
- a physical environment facilitating that lifestyle and inspiring rather than immersing one's sense of life and spirit;
- a rewarding economic environment, guided by people most affected, not one special interest or another.

Governor Hammond's plan includes: rational development of our non-renewable resources consistent with sound environmental safeguards; providing steady jobs for Alaskans already here; using some non-renewable income to strengthen the economy by enhancing our renewable resources; holding down government growth by taking tough veto actions and giving some resource wealth earnings back to Alaskans in dividends such as tax credits. Each year, under the Hammond Administration, per capita income has risen to the highest in the nation and all indicators point toward a healthy economy in 1978.

Governor Hammond's balanced approach, treating all interests fairly, will lead Alaskans toward a future rich enough to realize vast economic potential, yet wise enough to retain human and natural values which make Alaska the finest place on earth to live.

STATEMENT

I want to become an active lieutenant governor who will openly participate in the public policy decisions of state government for the next four years.

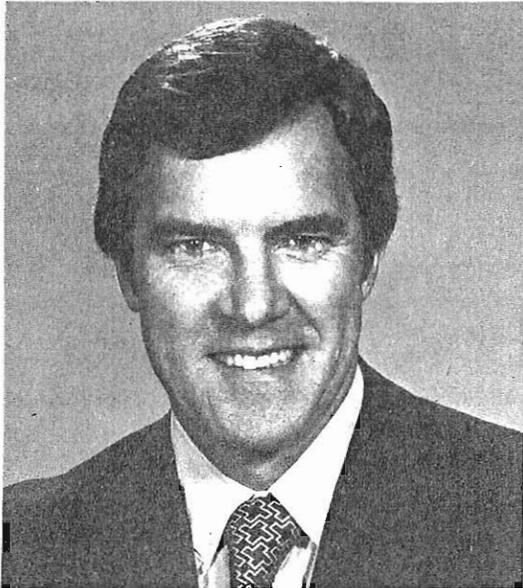

I intend to bring an economic perspective to the office — one that I believe has been missing in state government. I also have 13 years in state and local government and real knowledge of business through my private endeavors which will enable me to assist the next administration in developing a sound, economic package to counter Alaska's unemployment problems.

In addition, most of Alaska's future is inextricably tied to national and international economic policy. I have been studying exactly these kinds of phenomena for years and I believe I can offer valuable insights which will be helpful.

As Alaska enters the upcoming decades, it will be faced with new challenges and potentials. I'd like to bring my experience and background to state government in an attempt to help our State realize the best lifestyles possible for its citizens. Towards this end, I'm seeking the office of lieutenant governor.

STATEMENT

Tom Kelly is positive in his thinking and supports an action-oriented government in contrast to stagnating bureaucracy.

His position on the following issues is:

Bureaucracy — Check the growth of state government; eliminate useless and unnecessary programs.

Capital Move — Tell the public the truth about what the move will cost — then abide by the voters' decision on funding without delay.

D-2 — A balanced compromise to HR 39 recognizing wilderness and multiple-use in specific areas after state and native entitlements are fully satisfied.

Education — Rebuild confidence/pride in our state university.

Fisheries — Process and eventually market the complete 200-mile fisheries zone catch, utilizing tax incentives or subsidies as required.

Inflation — Hold increases in the cost of living to no more than the national average — and, hopefully, less.

Jobs — Create new job opportunities through wise use of natural resources.

Land — Transfer title of state lands to Alaskans, where available and appropriate, but not under the proposed initiative.

Pioneers — Adapt pioneer facilities for ambulatory/non-ambulatory residents.

Roads — Build what's already programmed; maintain what we have.

Taxes — Tax only as necessary to fund required services; eliminate gross business tax; simplify and reduce state income tax.

STATEMENT

Kay Poland wants to see Alaska move forward with careful stewardship of Alaska's resources for the benefit of all Alaskans.

Government — Fulfill the tasks that are government obligations in a fiscally responsible manner.

Capital Move — If the voters decide the cost is worthwhile, implement that decision.

D-2 — Work to amend the Act to give Alaska access to its resources, control of fish and game and satisfy both state and native land entitlements.

Social Services — Special concern for problems of alcoholism, child abuse, senior citizens and health care, both physical and mental.

Education — Make quality education available to all.

Fisheries — Encourage development of the bottom fisheries, manage all fisheries on a sustained yield basis, build up fish stocks for both sport and commercial fishing.

Land — Make land available to the private sector in an orderly and responsible fashion.

Jobs — Encourage stable industry for a year-round economy.

Taxes — Reduce property taxes through revenue sharing. Tax business only as necessary.

Transportation — Implement necessary road programs, expand the marine highway and assist communities in building docks and harbors.

Electrification — Develop hydroelectric projects and other methods of reducing energy costs.

SPECIAL INTEREST(S):

To work for the retention of Alaska land by Alaskans; to work for the return to the citizens of Alaska the power to determine the laws by which they live

STATEMENT

Alaska for Alaskans — Every citizen should own tax-free land in Alaska; every citizen should have a voice in the land, its management and disposition. We should have a government in which the citizens participate rather than being subjected to representative tyranny.

I believe the citizens of Alaska should:

Prohibit — All regulations, rulings and orders having the effect of law except that which shall be passed by the legislature and ratified by the voters;

Provide — A constitutional convention at an early date; full implementation of Section 1, Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Alaska providing for educational facilities for all children of the State; for the election of the attorney general, all judges and magistrates;

Effect — Full compliance with the United States Constitution, specifically Articles IX and X; control of the legislature by requiring ratification by the voters of all legislation; the elimination and prohibition of all property taxes and reduction of income tax;

Promote — Confidence and pride of all Alaskan citizens in their ability to manage their affairs without external interference; the rights of Alaskan residents to enter upon all state and borough lands under customary homestead, homestead and mineral location regulations.

SPECIAL INTEREST(S):

I have long been a student of history. I believe that the study of the past and a comparison of general trends in the present will give an insight into the future of our country. It is this interest and study that has led me to actively try to bring to the people's attention the principles and provisions of the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence. I believe our survival is in the balance and that we must reinstate these documents and principles.

STATEMENT

The land should belong to the PEOPLE. Our Constitution declares, "It is the policy of the State to encourage the settlement of its land and the development of its resources by making them available for maximum use consistent with the public interest".

Section 1, Article VIII has not been amended out of our Constitution.

What party stopped recreation site selection? Who offers 30,000 acres? It is a soppy insult to our people!

Private employment comes from the use of land and resources. Only the income from such use can support a free people. Alaska needs jobs which are land and resource oriented.

D-2 — We already have 17 million more acres in such classifications than the general average in the lower 48. "NOT ONE MORE ACRE" should be our uncompromising battle cry.

Federal domination is Colonial Imperialism. OSHA, EPA, BLM and the rest of the lot put King George III to shame. Send them back to the 48.

Alaskans should direct our development and determine our policies. Taxes are a necessity to maintain a government but it should be minimal. Government is usually the most expensive, inefficient and unsatisfactory way to accomplish a task. If California can, we can too!

STATEMENT

Let's look back ten years. At that time our currency was sought after by all peoples everywhere. We had the greatest military machine in the world. We were virtually self-sufficient in energy resources.

Most everything was going our way. But what now?

The dollar is losing out to inflation at home and losing value against major foreign currencies at even a more alarming rate.

Communist Russia has overtaken us in military weaponry, tanks, naval vessels, aircraft, firepower.

We are importing close to 50% of our fuel requirements causing a horrendous balance of payments deficit.

Need I say more? Things are going badly. Time for a change, isn't it?

We need new faces and old-fashioned ideas in Washington, D.C.

A balanced budget would, overnight, put a damper on inflation at home and strengthen the dollar abroad.

If elected, I pledge myself to work for a balanced budget, a stoppage of the flow of items essential to the buildup of the Russian military, the unshackling of the free enterprise system and incentives for the discovery of energy resources and minerals. This is the answer to our energy shortages, not in conservation alone.

STATEMENT

The Senate term I seek now ends in 1985. In this period Alaska faces tremendous challenges. The major issues we face — resolution of d-2, construction of the gas pipeline, total enforcement of the 200-mile limit, finalization of the native land claims settlement and our statehood land selections — will, we hope, be resolved long before this term is over.

In every facet of our lives, however, Alaskans will need to be vigilant to protect our Alaskan lifestyle, to preserve the freedoms and rights we enjoy. Whether the issue is gun control, the limits of federal taxation, or the extension of controls under the guise of protection, this period in Alaska's history will measure whether our pioneer values will prevail.

I believe Alaskans can govern themselves — the federal government should be no more involved in our daily lives than in those of any United States citizen.

I also believe that national issues — the quality of our defense forces, our commitment to freedom and our ability to keep the peace — will require that Alaska's Senior Senator be deeply involved in guiding this period of our nation's history.

If reelected, I shall continue to do my best for Alaska.

STATEMENT

Effectiveness. That's what the 1978 congressional campaign is all about. In the four years I have served in the Alaska State Senate, I have proved I can do the job.

Gas pipeline enabling legislation, campaign disclosure, medical malpractice insurance, a state ombudsman, a youth hostel system, increased revenue-sharing, cost-of-living adjustments for the elderly, Alaska hire, the Permanent Fund, lowered personal taxes, abolition of the gross business tax, increased oil and gas taxes, appropriations for school construction in the Bush, money for roads, airports and harbors, enhancement of the fishing industry, financial support for bottom-fishing, alternative energy revolving loan fund, improved police protection, revision of the criminal code, improved school hot-lunch program — all are issues I have worked on and helped succeed.

I'd like to continue to work for Alaska in Washington, D.C., but I'll need your support to get there. If you like what I've done, and you think I might be able to do a better job than the incumbent, I'd appreciate your vote. The committees which I serve on — Interior and the Merchant Marine and Fisheries — are those that have the greatest impact on Alaska. These committees have jurisdiction over public lands, Indian affairs, energy and environment, fish, wildlife and much more. My seniority on these committees gives the people of Alaska a voice in policy made at the national level.

Major legislation I sponsored and worked to pass includes: the Trans-Alaska pipeline, the 200-mile limit, amendments to the Native Claims Act and the transfer of Pet 4. I have fought hard to make sure that Alaska's unique needs and problems are recognized and dealt with by Congress.

The d-2 lands issue is the most important issue we have faced since statehood. I will continue my efforts, with your help, to make certain a fair and reasonable law is passed.

Besides legislation, resolving individual problems you may have with the federal government receives a top priority in my office.

On the national level, I will continue to support measures that relieve the burden too much government has imposed on us. Most important is tax relief for Alaskans.

With your support, I hope to continue representing Alaska in the US House.
