Statement

In 1980 I came to Washington, D.C. as part of a team committed to restoring American pride and freeing our nation from the politics of malaise. I want to continue that mission:

I will work to get our economy moving at full speed and continue to fight for jobs, low taxes and economic opportunity for every American.

I believe in traditional values of family, opportunity, safety, and freedom. I believe changes must be made so parents, not bureaucrats, make the important choices about the education of our children.

I believe we must make changes to restore a government America can be proud of. Government is too big and costs too much.

I believe we must approve access to the Alaskan National Wildlife Refuge (ANWR). Access to the refuge will decrease U.S.

dependency on foreign oil without damaging or significantly interrupting our precious environment, while creating an estimated 16,000 jobs in Alaska and 735,000 direct and indirect jobs throughout our nation.

In addition, I will continue my strong commitment to the North America Free Trade Agreement which will create jobs and boost our economy.

Together, we won the Cold War and ushered in a new, exciting world. While yesterday's challenges are behind us, tomorrow's are yet to be born.

As someone who served with pride in the Second World War and led this country through Desert Storm, I know we can meet any challenge. Together, we will enter the 21st century with progress, prosperity and the promise of a peaceful tomorrow.

Business and

Professional Positions: Associate Publisher of The Huntington Herald-Press, 1966-76; Private Practice of Law, 1974-76

Statement

Today, we maintain our commitment of peace and prosperity with an agenda that addresses the many challenges and opportunities America will face in the future.

•Our agenda is one of decentralization, reform and reducing the role of government in the everyday lives of people.

•We believe in revitalizing education, empowering individuals and communities and strengthening the family.

•The Bush Administration is committed to the expansion of American trade.

•When it comes to health care reform and child care programs, we want parents to make the important decisions — all the decisions.

•In the battle of over-regulation, our Administration maintains a firm commitment to ending the excessive cost and delay of our civil justice system. Through the Competitiveness Council and regulatory reform efforts, we have brought meaningful change that has yielded $20 billion in annual savings, creating or saving some 200,000 jobs nationwide.

•We believe that the cycle of welfare dependency must be reduced. Our Administration has established new initiatives that get people off welfare rolls and into jobs.

Republicans have led the world to freedom and democracy with the end of the Cold War — and we will lead America to prosperity with four more years in the White House.

Co-chair of the National Governors' Association Task Force on Healthcare from 1990-91.

Statement

It's time for a change. It's time to get our economy moving again.

Our government has failed our people. For twelve years now, the Republicans have cut taxes for the rich and raised taxes on the rest of us. Good jobs have disappeared. Health care is beyond the reach of millions. Schools have declined. Our streets and neighborhoods are more dangerous. And the Republicans have done nothing.

We can't afford four more years of a President without a vision for our nation.

Al Gore and I have a bold new plan to fight for what Americans deserve: good jobs, quality health care, world-class education and safe neighborhoods. Middle-class Americans will finally have leaders who are on their side.

It's time for Americans to unite behind the hope we share -- that we can build a better future for our nation. Bill Clinton and Al Gore will put people first for a change.

Statement

I'm running for Vice-President for one simple reason: I love my country, and I believe in my heart that the Clinton/Gore ticket gives our country the best chance for the change we so desperately need.

I'm proud to serve as Bill Clinton's running mate: to fight on behalf of the hard-working people of the United States. The time has come for all Americans to get off the sidelines; to get involved in the process, to be a part of the healing this country desperately needs, to get to work on the changes for the average working people of this country.

I believe very deeply that this nation simply cannot afford another four years of the kind of leadership that we have now. They've run out of ideas, they've run out of energy, they've run out of ability to inspire our people. One of my greatest hopes for this campaign is to lift the public dialogue, to make this campaign a national conversation about America's future, so that we can present to the people ideas, choices, a sensible plan for getting our country moving in the right direction.

We're going to lay out the plan that Bill Clinton has put forward. We're going to present choices to the American people. We're going to ask all Americans, regardless of what political party they're in, to join our team. We want all Americans to join this common effort to bring our country together, to get our economy moving, to create jobs, change course, and get America back on the right track.

Statement

My platform will heal America and make her a healthy, stable, sovereign nation once more. In order to do that we must first recognize the disease and cure her by returning to the Constitution. Economically, we must eliminate the Federal Reserve System (FED). The FED is a private corporation whose majority of stockholders are European. This is totally unconstitutional. In 1913 when Congress approved the Federal Reserve Act they started the economical destruction of America. I would resurrect John F. Kennedy's Executive Order to print United States Notes based on gold and silver. This act would stabilize our economy and eliminate the national deficit.

I would also repeal the 16th Amendment (Income Tax) by proving that the amendment was never properly ratified. 17,000 documents collected from all 48 states at the time of ratification, prove that it was not properly ratified. That is called continuing fraud and there is no statute of limitations on fraud. After my presidential committee returns from the various state capitols with such proof the 16th Amendment will be declared null and void and the Income Tax along with the IRS will be eliminated. According to Ronald Reagan's Grace Commission report, not 1 penny of personal income tax goes to the federal government. By returning to the constitution and paying for government with excise and impost taxes, duties, tariffs and appropriations we can run government efficiently as we did prior to 1913.

We must continue the healing of America by finding a cure for AIDS, cancer and other diseases. There are proven cures for these diseases but because disease research is done for profit these cures are not allowed in the United States. Europe has a cure for AIDS and is applied very inexpensively. According to the Charitable Solicitation Card of the National Cancer Research Center, 1/2 of 1 cent goes to research. We must defang the Food and Drug Administration and allow our citizens to natural health aids and natural supplements without having to go to a medical doctor as the FDA is wanting.

America must not continue to be the world policeman. While we must have a strong national defense we should not mingle in the affairs of other nations. I would pull us out of the United Nations and will not support a New World Order. I believe in "fair" trade not "free" trade. Free trade will move American jobs to foreign nations and will leave us dependent on other countries. We must continue to be independent.

Statement

The Battle lines have been drawn between "the" Government and "We the People." For as many years as I can remember the government has gradually encroached on our freedom as guaranteed by the Founding Fathers. We now pay an ever increasing graduated income tax as proposed by Karl Marx! We have been saddled with a debt money system which has resulted in a four trillion plus national debt that is mathematically impossible to repay.

Promises by the "republicrats" have resulted in only more of the same invasion of privacy and increases of taxes. Our tax money is routinely sent to foreign countries which do not even agree with our philosophy of government. Meanwhile, our people are jobless and our industry is exported overseas where slave labor allows the flooding of our markets with cheap goods further compounding our unemployment.

In 1981 the federal debt stood at one trillion dollars. In 1989 it was three trillion. Now, in 1992, we face a debt of more than FOUR TRILLION DOLLARS. Each of us presently owes $46,000. By the end of this decade our per capita share of the federal debt will be $300,000. The system is broke and we need to repair it immediately!

It is wake up time America! Do you intend to vote yourself four more years of broken promises? Your vote for the principles upon which we take our stand will stop the headlong plunge into the dictatorship that is planned for you.

DR. MIKE TOMPKINS, Natural Law Party

Residence Address: 403 Silverlakes, Fairfield, IA 52556

Mailing Address: 51 W. Washington St., Fairfield, IA 52556

Biography:

Dr. Mike Tompkins was a National Merit Scholar and a Presidential Scholar in 1966, and in 1970 graduated with honors from Harvard University. In 1984, he received his Doctorate in the Science of Creative Intelligence from Maharishi European Research University in Switzerland.

For the past 18 years, Dr. Tompkins has directed projects to introduce natural law based programs in government, health care, education, and business and industry. He is the author and editor of many books and other publications on the knowledge and technologies of natural law. Through his writings and extensive travels, Dr. Tompkins has brought this scientific knowledge to millions of people worldwide.

Dr. Mike Tompkins was born on November 29, 1948, in Boston, Massachusetts. He currently lives in Fairfield, Iowa.

Statement

The Natural Law Party is very American – bold and new, practical and scientific. Looking to our American heritage, we see that the Natural Law Party is both a return and an advance: an advance in knowledge, and a return to the ideals that defined America at its beginnings.

As a nation, we were born in togetherness. Our revolution was not won by division, but by gathering people together to the cause of freedom.

George Washington warned against the "spirit of party". He said that political parties would come between the people and their government. This is the situation today – party politics has deadlocked government.

It's time for a revitalization of government. The Natural Law Party has created a platform on which people of all political backgrounds – Republican, Democrat, third parties, and Independents – who have practical, proven solutions to the nation's problems, can stand together and work as one.

Thomas Jefferson believed that "the earth belongs always to the living generation." By this he meant two things: first, that our institutions must evolve to keep pace with the times – that the most up-to-date scientific knowledge must be made available to the people; and second, that no generation has a right to leave a debt for the next generation – environmental, economic, or any other kind of debt.

The Natural Law Party takes this responsibility very seriously and offers programs to solve the problems of our economy, environment, education, etc. and leave the coming generations with a better world.

DR. JOHN HAGELIN, Natural Law Party

Residence Address: 1800 University Court, Fairfield, IA 52556
Mailing Address: 51 W. Washington St., Fairfield, IA 52556

Biography:

Dr. John Hagelin, 38, is a world-renowned scientist. He received his Ph.D. in nuclear physics from Harvard University, and has authored over 60 articles, which include some of the most cited references in the physical sciences.

Dr. Hagelin has worked at the European Laboratory for Particle Physics (CERN) and the Stanford Linear Accelerator (SLAC), where he became actively engaged in fundamental research at the forefront of modern physics. He is co-developer of a highly successful theory that unites the fundamental forces and particles of nature.

In recognition of his ground-breaking work, Dr. Hagelin was named this year's winner of the prestigious Kilby Award. The award citation described Dr. Hagelin as "a physicist in the tradition of Einstein, Bohr, Jeans, and Eddington."

Dr. John Hagelin was born on June 9, 1954, in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. He and his wife, Margaret currently live in Fairfield, Iowa.

Statement

Never before has there been such an urgent call in America for new leadership – leadership that can rise above the political gridlock which has stood in the way of proven solutions to the nation's problems.

As a scientist and concerned citizen, I am aware of practical, scientifically proven solutions to all the problems we face as a nation – problems of rising crime, spiralling health costs, declining education, ineffective rehabilitation, a seriously recessed economy, and a rapidly deteriorating environment. Our government so far has lacked the knowledge, the programs and, in some cases, the will to solve these and other serious problems.

The Natural Law Party combines the best ideas and the best talents of all political parties to form a truly national government. It offers new knowledge, new expertise and new, scientifically validated programs to raise the nation above the reach of problems and bring a higher quality of life to every American.

There has never been such a broad mandate for something new in the field of politics. I offer my candidacy now, in this election year, so that we don't lose this golden opportunity to bring about real change in America.

I invite you to join us in this great effort to revitalize America and bring lasting satisfaction, progress, and prosperity to every American.

Statement

We are facing the greatest crisis of the century: economic collapse and escalating international chaos, verging on a new world war. Republicans and Democrats neither recognize the crisis nor offer solutions. LaRouche has warned of this developing crisis for twenty years, and is the only candidate offering a concrete recovery program.

LaRouche would implement a large-scale infrastructure construction program, and end the Federal Reserve's control over credit. He would turn the Fed into a National Bank to issue cheap credit for manufacturing and agriculture. $600 billion would be loaned for infrastructure projects, creating six million public and private sector jobs.

This program would:

- Build the North American Water and Power Alliance to transport water from Canada and Alaska to the lower 48.
- Rebuild our transportation grid, including magnetically-levitated train systems; repair highways and bridges; expand port facilities.

- Build the energy grid needed for an industrial recovery, including nuclear energy; develop fusion power. Manage ANWR as a multiple-use area, including oil extraction.

- Build a health-care delivery system to provide adequate health care for every community.

- Implement a classical education curriculum; end the rehearsing of children for multiple-choice tests. Create a new Civilian Conservation Corps, not digging ditches, but exposing youth to advanced technologies through the infrastructure projects.

- Launch a Mars colonization program, revolutionizing our industrial technologies and increasing productivity.

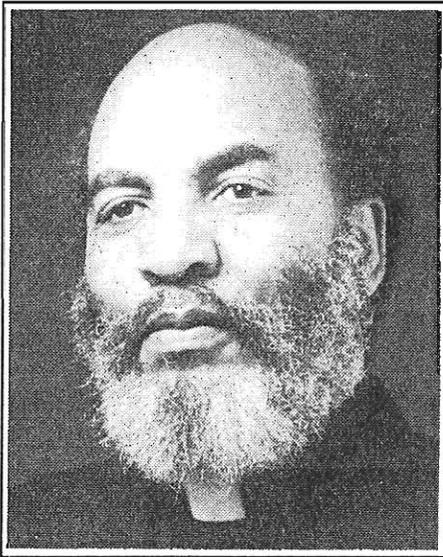

This program will greatly expand our tax-revenue base and is the only way to provide the economic and social justice to which all Americans are entitled.

The Reverend James L. Bevel, a founder of the Civil Rights movement, was one of the closest associates of Dr. Martin Luther King. He co-founded the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee in 1960; directed the freedom rides in 1961 and the 1962 Greenwood, Mississippi voter registration campaign. He organized the Birmingham, Alabama Children's Crusade and initiated the March on Washington in 1963. In 1965-66 he directed the Selma Right to Vote Movement and the Chicago Open Housing Movement and Tenant Unions. He directed the Mobilization to End the War in Vietnam in 1967 and Non-Violent Education in the Poor People's Campaign in 1968. He developed and directed the Students of Education and Economic Development in 1984. He began working with Lyndon LaRouche two years ago.

Statement

I am running for Vice President because of the urgent necessity to build an independent people's movement based on the Constitution and the Declaration of Independence, before it is too late.

America has been criminalized by the way it votes. The person who votes for the lesser of two evils, votes for evil. It's like deciding to lynch a man instead of eating him. Either way, you commit a crime. And not voting--that's like watching a lynching on TV. It's a crime of omission.

The people must become the government. They must ensure that the self-evident truths of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, survive. This requires a moral economic policy, based on the Christian idea of love, on non-violence.

The LaRouche-Bevel Independent Campaign offers America, and the world, a policy that means you can develop one country without having to kill people in another. It's an anti-slavery economic policy. The United States hasn't had that since Reconstruction.

That's what King died trying to establish. Yet, 24 years later, the poor are increasing in numbers; so are the rich. The poor are being thrown on the scrap heap as useless eaters.

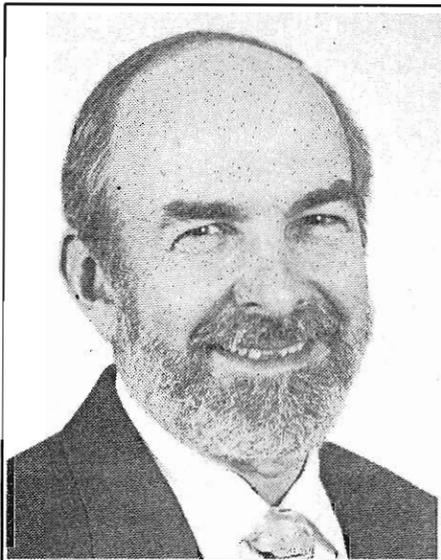

For civil rights to be meaningful today, everyone must be entitled not only to the right to vote, but also to work productively, to be prepared for such work and for citizenship by a decent education, and to receive adequate health care. LaRouche and I stand for such a concept of civil rights.

Special Interests: Director, Project 51-92 PAC, 1988-91, working to ease ballot access laws across the country

Statement

The average Alaskan is a Libertarian but may not realize it yet.

The U.S. Constitution was primarily written to limit Government, not to establish rights which we already have.

Thomas Jefferson said, "That government is best which governs least." Libertarians agree fully.

Governmental power is diametrically opposed to individual liberty. As one goes up, the other goes down. Libertarians want to maximize individual liberty (the control of our time, money and body) thus, we also desire to minimize governmental power (taxes, regulations, and bureaucrats).

Specifically, Libertarians would:

- Repeal the personal income tax and abolish the IRS.
- Create jobs by rescinding regulations.
- Reduce health care costs by increasing competition, cutting tax subsidies, and removing restrictions.
- Stop drug crime and reduce drug usage by removing the huge profit motive.

• Eliminate budget deficits and start paying off the national debt.

- Restore full gun ownership rights.
- Limit congressional terms.
- Cut bureaucracy 7%-10% yearly via freezes on hiring.
- End all tax subsidies, especially those for harmful drugs.
- Bring our troops back home and cease foreign aid.
- Privatize education; charityize welfare.

When I was in the Alaska House of Representatives, I fought for lower taxes, less government, and more freedom. Also, I helped repeal the personal income tax, deregulate transportation, keep the Permanent Fund dividends, rescind the legislative pay raise, and start the Tundra Rebellion.

Don't waste your vote! Voting for Democrats and Republicans will only encourage higher taxes, more regulations, and larger bureaucracies. Vote for economic and personal rights! Vote Libertarian!

Statement

The Libertarian Party offers something other than politics as usual. We offer a principled, reasoned approach to solving the problems facing our country. It is a program based on these components:

First: Substantially reduce the size and intrusiveness of government and cut taxes;

Second: Encourage entrepreneurship, self-sufficiency and individual responsibility;

Third: Put an end to government involvement in our personal lives and individual moral decisions; and Fourth: Establish a post-cold war foreign policy that puts America's interests first.

These are not radical concepts. They are the bedrock foundation of our political system. They only seem radical because they are so different from the "politics as usual" being offered by the Democrats and Republicans.

The Libertarian program is a thoughtful, well balanced program that is based on the essential ideals of the Founding Fathers -- that reflect the advice of Thomas Jefferson when he wrote that the American government "shall restrain men from injuring one another, which shall leave them otherwise free to regulate their own pursuits of industry and improvement, and shall not take from the mouth of labor the bread it has earned."

Statement

Every American family is the victim of "Great Society" policies advanced by White House Republicans and Congressional Democrats.

Since 1961, Federal expenditures have increased from less than $100 billion to more than $1.5 trillion annually.

Since 1973, our standard of living has declined steadily. Americans work harder, but have less real income.

Vastly increased government regulation has closed down businesses, raised costs, and eliminated jobs.

More than change drivers, we must change directions, with a "vision of victory" to put America back on the right track.

We offer every taxpayer a "Grand Bargain." Help us cut Federal spending by $500 billion per year and we will abolish the IRS, so that you can keep all of the thousands of dollars you otherwise would be sending to Washington in income taxes.

George Bush's annual budget is fifty percent greater than Ronald Reagan's 1987 budget – just five years ago. It was $1 trillion then. It's $1.5 trillion now.

We can't afford it.

Last year, the income tax produced less than $500 billion. Borrowing and other revenues made up the difference. If we cut spending by $500 billion, we can cut taxes by $500 billion.

That will encourage savings, investment, consumption, and jobs.

I will keep America first militarily and make sure that our foreign policy is designed to serve the interests of American taxpayers and workers, rather than the goals of international banks, multinational corporations, and foreign governments.

I favor capital punishment.

Statement

Reconstruct the old American republic to its Constitutional and Biblical Principles. We will reduce the tax burden on individuals by cutting government spending. Our objective is to eliminate the income tax and disband the Internal Revenue Service. Government is the problem, not the solution to our national crises.

We would eliminate most of the Federal Regulations which have added untold billions of dollars to the tax burden and which have closed countless small businesses from paper-work burdens.

We hold a firm pro-life position, believing human life begins at conception. Thus, the unborn child is entitled to full protection. We affirm the family as the core of American society and know that family values are based upon the Holy Bible.

We disapprove of the "New World Order" of internationalism and believe our government must place our own national interests first. We will protect American workers' jobs by raising tariffs on imports - thereby forcing our trade competitors to help pay for our legitimate government expenditures (as was done before 1910). We will stop all foreign aid. We will withdraw from the United Nations and all international monetary agencies.

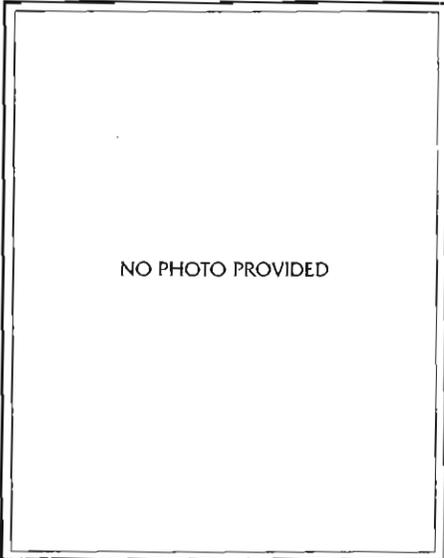

We shall maintain a strong and modern defense. We shall deploy immediately the SDI to defend our people against missile attacks. We reaffirm the Monroe Doctrine and seek to regain control over the operation and security of the Panama Canal.

Statement

I PLEDGE TO WORK TOWARDS THESE GOALS

Welfare: Eliminate fraud and provide intense job training programs and use idle classrooms for night classes.
Civil Rights: Provide laws that reflect the philosophy that we are most importantly, AMERICANS.
Gun Laws: Forcefully provide for rapid and severe punishment for offenders.
Ecology: Laws must carry the element of common sense. Things done earlier in time must not be called up later for prosecution for a later generation.
Clean Air: Be realistic, honest and intelligent in defining contaminates. Resource and development for alternative energy sources.
Death Sentence: Expand to a broader coverage. Include drug wholesalers.
Narcotics: Rehabilitation to be more readily available. More severe punishment for dealers.

Economy: Instill in the mind of every American the understanding that when one person gets a dollar, someone, somewhere must give up one. Use the Electronic Town Hall concept to force the issue for a balanced budget and the indebtedness and its crippling interest costs.
Education: Remove the system from the political arena. Force the issue of teacher competency in the classroom.
Foreign Affairs: Walk softly and carry a big stick. Restore the concept that if an American National is to be punished, it will be in America under American law. Provide for a small, efficient, powerful defense force and a spin off of military resources and development to benefit our economic community.
Penal System: Use surplus military bases, where possible, to create self sustaining prison farms.

Statement

A healthy sustainable economic future for ALASKA is achievable by utilizing long term strategies, encouraging personal and social responsibility while respecting cultural, racial, religious, and spiritual diversity.

MY CAMPAIGN-

Supports increased local jobs through manufacturing raw materials to finished products. Utilize land, water and forest resources in sustainable, healthy ways. If we sell Alaska, sell retail—stop wholesaling natural resources!

Opposes opening ANWR to oil exploration - ANWR is OUR SAVINGS ACCOUNT. Develop West Sak and Ugnu Kuparuk fields near Prudhoe. National energy conservation will stimulate economic growth and alternative energy development.

Supports HEALTH CARE for ALL ALASKANS. Attack alcohol and other drug abuse through intervention, treatment, education, and reconnecting family/community values. Stop subsidizing tobacco and alcohol industries. If Congress can't say no to the most destructive drug pushers, can they be expected to say no across our borders?

Recognizes the valid existing rights of Native Peoples. Guarantees access to subsistence resources. Uses local wisdom and knowledge to manage fish and wildlife.

Guarantees the RIGHT TO REPRODUCTIVE CHOICE. Poverty or lack of support should not be key factors.

Supports collective bargaining, pay equity, child care and family leave.

Alaska is ignoring one of its greatest resources — ALASKAN WOMEN. GENDER BALANCING will ensure women their rightful place in political life, as well as other areas.

I will use the grassroots consensus processes to:
REACH individuals with concerns and identify problems
RESEARCH appropriate bodies of knowledge and law
SEEK advice, thoughts, and ideas then
PROPOSE realistic long term SOLUTIONS to the problems.

Statement

Due to seniority, experience, and expertise, I will move to the finance committee, at the beginning of the next session of Congress. With Senator Stevens on appropriations and me on finance, Alaska will have the strongest possible committee combination in the United States Senate, enjoyed by only one other state.

My finance committee priorities will be reducing the national debt, a fair and equitable tax code that will encourage personal savings and investment, economic growth and job creation, and health care reform.

In addition, I will continue to:

- Fight for ANWR
- Work to identify, monitor, and clean up toxic and nuclear waste in the Arctic that we share with the rest of the world
- Fight to eliminate the curtains of death that threaten our fisheries
- Work for strong national defense, military men and women, and veterans

- Support workfare instead of Welfare
 - Fight the drug trade and other criminal elements
 - Support the death penalty for certain crimes
 - Work for the improvement of American education at all levels
- My "New Directions for a New Century" program will work for:
- Alaskan involvement in the economic development of Eastern Russia
 - Ocean research and development
 - Arctic space exploration
 - Trans-shipment trade between the Lower 48, East Asia, and Europe
 - Natural gas, coal, mineral, wood fiber, and petrochemical export
 - Tourism expansion

Statement

I'm running for the Senate for one simple reason: Washington's not working. It's not working for America, it's not working for Alaska. Professional politicians are too busy with their pay raises, bouncing checks and special deals for special interests to address the serious problems facing our country.

We must develop Alaska's resources in an environmentally responsible way, provide an education system that's relevant to the future and make government responsive regardless of one's political connections.

Jobs. Alaskans should get more of the benefits from our resources. I favor the responsible development of ANWR, the growth of small business, the Alaskanization of the fisheries and taking advantage of our geographic location.

Education. Education must start early with good pre-school and continue through one's life with training that keeps pace with the changing economy. Money spent on education is the best investment we can make. I am proud to be endorsed by Alaska's National Education Association.

Choice. I believe strongly in a woman's right to choose. I'll also fight for equal opportunities for women, combat skyrocketing violence against women and children.

Health care. If criminals have the right to a lawyer, average Americans should have the right to a doctor. I favor universal health care which preserves what works now - high quality and many choices - while holding down costs and making health care available regardless of income. I am proud to be endorsed by the American Nurses Association.

Deficit. We must reduce the $4 trillion deficit or our young have no future.

Business and Professional Positions: Board Member, Alaska-Korea Business Council, 1988-92; Board Member, Alaska Municipal League, 1983-88; Board Member, Alaska Resource Development Council 1988-91; Valdez Chapter President, Alaska Visitors Association, 1980; Board Member, Alaska District Export Council, 1988-92; Valdez Chamber of Commerce, 1989.

Service Organization(s) Membership: Governor's Council for the Handicapped and Gifted, 1980-82; Member of the Oiled Mayors group during the Exxon Valdez oil spill, 1989

Special Interests: Equestrian programs for children with disabilities, fishing, boating

Other: Nationally certified audiologist and speech pathologist; Coast Guard certification to operate charter boat; led five trade missions to Asia; published more than 20 articles.

Statement

As an educator and former mayor of Valdez, I have watched along with other ordinary Alaskans as we lost control of our federal government and our elected representatives became professional politicians more and more tied to special interests. It's time for a change.

Governmental Reform: Members of Congress should not be above the law; special privileges and "perks" are unacceptable rewards for public service; we must remove the unfair advantage incumbents have in elections; and Congress must develop a balanced budget and rid our nation of the staggering debt we are leaving as a legacy to our children.

Choice: I have always been in favor of a woman's right to make her own decision about reproduction. I believe everyone in our society, regardless of wealth or standing, is entitled to the right to make decisions about matters affecting her own health and welfare.

Subsistence: Rural residents who depend on fish and game for their livelihood and lifestyle deserve the first right to those resources so they can feed their families and maintain their culture.

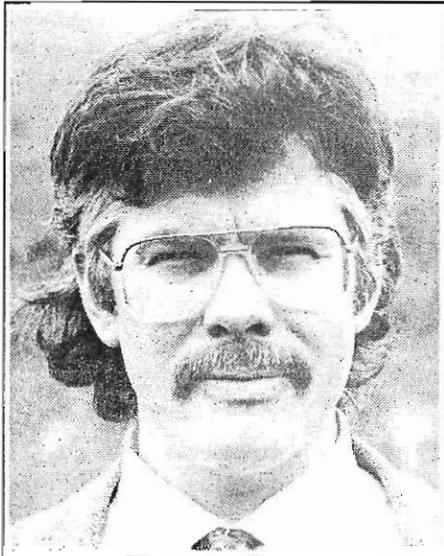

My Commitment to Alaska: I support opening ANWR, building the gas line and exporting our oil. I support affordable and accessible health care for all, strong educational programs and safe sewer and water supplies for all our cities, towns and villages. I have new ideas, such as value added production, to help our timber, fishing and mineral industries provide more jobs for Alaskans.

Statement

Alaskans have a unique respect for individuality, this makes us an important participant in the national debate on issues like the consumptive use of wildlife, a woman's right to choose her own destiny, an individual's right to keep and bear arms, and the status of our nation's elders.

The size of the federal deficit is one of the biggest threats to our society we currently face. We must begin to attack the principle of the deficit so we can stop the biggest waste of federal dollars; interest payments.

Alaska has been a world leader in environmentally sound resource extraction, we should not take this responsibility lightly. Going into ANWR, our nation's most pristine ecosystem, during a world wide glut of oil is a mistake. The message such an action sends to developing nations will hurt our oil industry in the long run. Federal environmental regulations can be used to create and protect jobs.

All fisherman, miners, loggers, and oil workers need someone in Congress that will closely monitor money the International Monetary Fund loans to our competitors. America needs to better use it's influence to raise environmental standards worldwide, and level the playing field for our domestic extraction industry.

Many of the nation's voters realize the importance the November election has in setting the national agenda for the next century. With humility and resolve I will promote policies that will leave an environment that will support future generations, strengthen our great nation, and protect our Alaskan lifestyle.
