Voting Information

Election Day is November 2, 2010

Polling Places

The polls will be open from 7:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. on Election Day. To locate your polling place please call 1-888-383-8683. In Anchorage, please call 269-8683.

Bring Identification to the Polls

You MUST be prepared to show one form of identification. You may use the following ID:

- Voter ID Card
- Driver's License
- State ID Card
- Current and valid photo ID Card
- Passport
- Military ID Card
- Birth Certificate
- Hunting or Fishing License

or, you may use an original copy of one of the following documents if it contains your name and current address:

- Current Utility Bill
- Government Check
- Bank Statement
- Pay Check
- Other Government Document

If you do not have identification when voting, you will be asked to vote a questioned ballot.

What Happens if Your Name is not on Register

If your name does not appear on the precinct register, you may vote a questioned ballot. Before receiving a ballot, you must complete a questioned ballot envelope. Your voted ballot will be placed in a secrecy sleeve and then the secrecy sleeve will be sealed inside the completed questioned ballot envelope. All questioned ballots are returned to the Election Supervisor for review and counting by the Questioned Ballot Review Board.

Marking the Ballot

When voting the ballot, completely fill in the oval next to the candidate or issue you wish to vote for. Fill in the oval like this:

You only have to mark the races or issues you choose to vote for. If you mark more than one choice in a race or issue, that section of the ballot will NOT be counted. The sections of the ballot that are properly marked will be counted.

If you make a mistake marking your ballot, DO NOT erase or correct the ballot. You may return the spoiled ballot to an election worker and request a new ballot. If you attempt to correct a mistake on the ballot, the corrected vote may not be counted. Note: You may only receive a replacement for a spoiled ballot 2 times.

Campaigning Prohibited Near Polls

Alaska law prohibits political persuasion within 200 feet of any entrance to a polling place during the hours the polls are open. This means you may not discuss or display campaign items for candidates or issues appearing on the ballot at that polling place.

Voter Rights, Assistance and Concerns

Questioned Voting

If your name is not listed on the precinct register or if you do not have identification, you have the right to vote a questioned ballot. The information you provide on the outside of the questioned ballot envelope will be used to determine your voting eligibility and to update your voter registration information. If for any reason your questioned ballot is not fully counted, you will be notified in writing.

Language or Other Assistance While Voting

If you need assistance during the voting process, you may have a person of your choice provide any needed assistance as long as that person is not a candidate for office in the election, is not your employer, agent of your employer or agent of a union you belong to. Assistance may be provided during each step of the voting process, including assistance inside the voting booth with reading or marking the ballot. You may also receive assistance from the election board. This is your right under federal law.

The Division of Elections provides for language assistance for Alaska Native and Filipino (Tagalog) voters who have limited English proficiency through the use of bilingual election workers and interpreters. Alaska Native language assistance is available on Election Day in many rural polling places throughout the state. Filipino (Tagalog) language assistance is available on Election Day in Kodiak. If you need language assistance, please contact the Division of Elections. Yup'ik language assistance is available by calling, toll-free, 1-866-954-8683.

Touch Screen Voting Option

There will be one touch screen voting unit in each polling place. Touch screen voting is intended for the blind, disabled, and for voters who do not read well. Alaska's touch screen voting unit allows disabled voters to vote unassisted through the use of magnified, high contrast and audio ballots. If you need to vote using the touch screen voting unit, let the election board know.

Visually Impaired Voters

Magnifying ballot viewers for the visually impaired will be available at all polling places and absentee voting sites.

Audio recording of this Pamphlet is available at each Regional Election Office or from the Alaska State Library, Talking Book Center, located in Anchorage. Telephone the library at (907) 269-6575 for information.

The Division of Elections has a TTY telecommunications device, which allows hearing impaired voters to obtain general information about elections by calling (907) 465-3020.

Physically Disabled Voters

If you have difficulty gaining access to your polling place, or if you have accessibility questions about your polling place, please let the Division of Elections know. We make every effort to ensure that polling places are accessible to all Alaskans.

November, 2010

To Fellow Military Service Members,

Freedom comes at a great cost. No one knows that better than the brave men and women who have served or are currently serving in the United States Armed Forces. You continue to answer the nations call to secure and defend freedom for the citizens of this country and for those we are called to serve around the world.

During the upcoming election cycle I urge you to take full advantage of the freedom that so many have dearly paid for. The ability to vote is the foundation on which freedom is built. This November, you have the opportunity to cast your ballot and let your voice be heard.

If you are deployed overseas at this time, you have not given up your right to vote. You can arrange to use an absentee ballot through the Alaska Division of Elections. If you have not already done so, arrangements must be made swiftly as election day is soon to be upon us.

Thank you for your service and daily sacrifice to this nation. On election day, take the time to enjoy the benefits of freedom you so richly deserve.

Sincerely,

Thomas H. Katkus
Major General, AKARNG
The Adjutant General-Alaska

Absentee Voting

Early / In Person / By Mail / By Fax / Special Needs Voting

There are several absentee voting options available during each election. You may vote absentee in person, by mail, by fax or vote a special needs ballot through a personal representative.

Voting Early or Absentee In Person

Beginning October 18, 2010, you may vote at an absentee voting site. Ballots for all 40 districts are available at all Regional Elections offices. In addition to the Regional Elections offices, there are many other voting sites throughout Alaska that will have ballots for their house district. For more information or for a list of absentee voting locations visit our website or contact a Regional Elections office.

Special Needs Voting

If you are unable to go to the polls due to age, serious illness or a disability, you may have a personal representative pick up and deliver a ballot to you beginning 15 days before an election at an absentee voting site or on Election Day at the polling place. Your personal representative can be anyone, except a candidate for office in the election, the voter's employer, an agent of the voter's employer, or an officer or agent of the voter's union.

Voting By Mail or By Fax

The Division of Elections Absentee Office in Anchorage handles all absentee by mail and fax applications. To vote by mail or by fax, you must submit an application.

Absentee By Mail

Absentee ballot applications can be submitted after January 1st of each election year. You can request a ballot for a specific election or for all elections in the year. Absentee by mail ballot applications for the General election must be received by October 23, 2010. Apply early to ensure timely delivery of your ballot. OTHER:

I first came to Alaska at age seven and spent my elementary years in Petersburg. My young adult years were spent working as a commercial fishing deckhand around the state. I am a graduate of Sheldon Jackson College in Sitka. I worked as a tireless advocate for Alaska's kids at the community, state and national levels. Today I am the Mayor of Sitka.

STATEMENT:

As a small town Alaskan mayor and former school board president, I have had to cut spending and I have delivered balanced budgets during tough times. As your next Senator, I will never forget that the men and women of the middle class are Alaska's greatest natural resource, and I will never vote to simply print more money to fund multi-billion dollar big bank bailouts.

As a former deckhand in Alaska's commercial fishing sector, I will fight to ensure that Alaska's natural resources remain the green choice in a global marketplace. As your next US Senator, I will work to ensure that Alaska's natural resources are developed using the highest environmental standards in the world and are promoted as the green choice in the American marketplace while creating new jobs for Alaskans.

I believe that Alaskans know what is best for Alaska's children. I will remind beltway policy makers that the policies of No Child Left Behind have no place in our rural schools and I will fight to return control to local communities. I will be an advocate for Alaska's university and vocational programs.

I hold true the Alaskan belief that sovereignty begins with the individual, and that Alaska was built on the freedoms granted by choice, opportunity and self-determination. As your next Senator, I will fight to ensure that no outside interest, corporate or governmental, impedes or diminishes our individual ability to choose how we live, who we love, where we pray or what we think.

STATEMENT:

Most people know something is terribly wrong that could easily be fixed, but most people do not understand how to fix it. That is why I am running. If I can help two of you understand and you do the same, in time the whole country would understand. If you understand that logic, you can understand the banking system's trap for you.

When I first learned real estate financing most homes were free and clear, few people had a car loan and nobody had a credit card or two jobs. We are serfs to the banks by their design. Please do not be too lazy to figure it out for yourself.

It is time for the "Peoples Bailout".

1. Nationalize the Federal Reserve and place it under Congressional control.
2. Pay the entire national debt off, with none interest-bearing notes (Greenbacks as Lincoln did).
3. Place responsibility of funding social security to the nationalized FED.
4. Abolish the individual income tax.
5. Plan a return to the banking system of our founders.

Do you know?

1. What fiat money is?
2. How "Fractional Reserve Banking" works?
3. What the "New World Order" is about?
4. Money is created as debt but only enough to pay the debt not enough to pay the interest. The only way to get more money for the interest is more debt, with more interest. Are you starting to get it? Soon the banks own everything
5. Find the truth: Google it, while you still can.

Happiest man in Alaska - I'm not a "Sourdough" but I'm living my dream in Alaska.

STATEMENT:

I came to Alaska to live my lifelong dream. As YOUR Senator, I will fight for YOUR rights and YOUR future. Instead of positioning myself for re-election, I'll limit myself to one term addressing YOUR issues, not those of lobbyists.

My vision for Alaska benefits all Alaskans well into the future making your interest the highest priority. Decisions concerning Alaska should be made by Alaskans, not by outsiders guided by principles or objectives not necessarily benefitting Alaska.

Alaska must lead the country in Renewable Energy Development by investing in clean, safe technology; utilizing Alaska's vast untapped potential in wind, geothermal, hydroelectric and tidal energy; and ending our dependence on foreign oil.

ANWR and other natural resources must be harvested responsibly with minimum environmental impact. Proceeds must be used to build infrastructure providing for our state's great future.

It's time to stop talking and start building an Alaska natural gas pipeline. Alaska gas belongs to you – the time is NOW.

All decisions should be made after in-depth, unbiased consideration of all elements of each issue for the betterment of OUR COUNTRY and ALASKANS – not for political purpose.
I am not an isolationist; however, we should not be involved in military actions not in the security interests of the citizens of our country.

I'll be conservative with your money and protective of your individual rights. I am the working man's candidate, and I will never stop working for all Alaskans.

I strongly believe in Balanced Representation firmly embedded with Integrity.

OTHER: For the past 48 years my love and wife Françoise and I have done everything TOGETHER, including our campaigns for senator and governor, and WE will put ALL of our substantial combined skills, talents, knowledge, abilities, and experience to the maximum service and benefit of our fellow Alaskans.

STATEMENT: Elect me, and YOU win! Alaskan voters are deeply disappointed with the 30-year Murkowski father-daughter failure to open ANWR. Especially from 2002 to 2006 when according to them, "all of the stars were aligned"! Indeed, father-daughter could and should have opened ANWR in 2002 when my wife Françoise and I begged them to support our N.E.W. – ANWR efforts and open ANWR with us personifying the legislation as we had the National Fish and Wildlife Foundation Act that we got unanimously passed through Congress (please see details on my website at www.tedandfran.com).

How much has the deliberate father-daughter ANWR failure cost Alaska and America? More than 100 million dollars every day – hundreds-of-billions of dollars over the past several years! While Alaska and America lost the benefit of 1.5 million barrels of ANWR oil a day that would have filled our Alaska oil pipeline, father-daughter were talking up a non-existent gas line. Father-daughter won big-time for 30-years blaming everyone but themselves for their ANWR failure.

Isn't it time that YOU won? Elect me and YOU WILL WIN! I can and will open ANWR in the most beneficial way for Alaska, for America, and for wildlife with an ANWR-funded National Endowment for Wildlife headquartered right here in Alaska where it belongs.

I am conservative. I have been a conservative Democrat and a conservative Republican. I am now a conservative Veterans Party member. I will serve only ONE term. I will put Alaska, America, and veterans FIRST!

Elect me, and You win!

STATEMENT:

I'm a proud husband, father, and Alaskan. I am deeply concerned about the path our nation is on, and for that reason I decided to enter the race for the United States Senate. Our country is at a critical juncture. It is time for true change away from the long discredited notion that Big Government knows best and back towards the ideals upon which America was founded, rooted in individual freedom and personal responsibility.

Since the current Administration and Congress took over in 2008, they have proceeded to grow government to unprecedented levels, spending hundreds of billions of dollars we do not have. The federal budget deficit reached nearly one and a half trillion dollars each of the past two years. The Administration's own projections call for a doubling of the National Debt to over $20 trillion by the end of the decade. This path is unsustainable and jeopardizes our government's ability to live up to its sworn commitments to seniors and veterans.

If elected I commit to work tirelessly to:

- Reverse Government Growth
- Give Alaska Control of its Lands
- Promote Tax Policies that Create Jobs
- Repeal ObamaCare
- Protect Veterans Benefits
- Support a Strong National Defense
- Fight Cap and Trade Legislation

As your Senator, I will be a catalyst to move those in Congress to make the tough, principled decisions needed to bring Washington back on track.

I respectfully ask for your vote on Election Day.

STATEMENT:

I fervently believe that we have no problems facing us that cannot be solved by honest common sense solutions. Granted, this is as long as the Representative deciding what those solutions are isn't confused by large campaign checks from donors that are more concerned with their self interest than in the public interest.

The skyrocketing budget deficit and debt is a national disaster requiring an immediate bipartisan solution. In recent years we endured a major recession, rising unemployment and billions spent in conflicts overseas. We have to stop these trends and put Americans back to work in real, productive industry.

As your representative in Washington D. C., I am committed to: (1) construction of the Alaska gas pipeline using American-made steel (to the greatest extent possible); (2) reducing the dependence on foreign energy imports, (3) incentivizing companies to develop value-added industries, (4) bring back domestic manufacturing and create jobs, (5) support development of Alaska's renewable resources, and (6) reduce our involvement in foreign conflicts. All of these elements will stimulate our economy, reduce costs and put Americans and our Alaskans back to work.

We don't have time to wait; the future is now. I ask for your support in sending me to represent you in Washington.

Thank you.

STATEMENT:

Throughout my career I've taken great pride in all that I've been able to accomplish for our state and all Alaskans. Together we've been a great team working to ensure that Alaska is not overlooked or forgotten back in DC.

We've seen the Obama Administration take great strides in enlarging our government. I've stood up to the Administration when they've tried to move this country in the wrong direction, including the so-called "stimulus" package, the massive health care bill, the Wall Street bailout, and the worthless cap and trade bill. My goal is to dissolve the United States federal government and reinstate the United States of America!

I believe strongly in the Constitution and the Second Amendment and will continue to fight everyday against encroachment on our rights. Alaska has all the energy resources needed to fuel our State and our Nation. I will continue to work towards extracting Alaska's rich natural resources as well as explore our nation's diverse energy sources, giving our schools improved flexibility under No Child Left Behind and ensuring that the men and women who defend this great country continue to receive the best medical care available.

Alaska is not a one-size-fits-all state. Each region of Alaska has different needs and different opportunities. My career in Congress has been one that has represented Alaska's interests forcefully and I respectfully ask for your continued support on August 24th. Together we can move Alaska forward!

STATEMENT:

It means something to be an Alaskan, something unique to each of us, and something shared by all of us.

More than any other place, we have the resources – both physical and human – to face the future on our own terms: self-reliant, independent, and with justifiable optimism about our opportunities.

A lot has changed in the fifty years since statehood and yet much remains the same – we're still too dependent on the federal government, too reliant on Outside corporations and too beholden to special interests. After fifty years, it's time to put Alaska first again.

It's time to implement an energy plan that delivers affordable power for Alaska's people. That means putting Alaskans to work building an All-Alaska gasline and harnessing the state's abundant renewable energy.

It's time to revitalize our education system with universally available pre-school, increased vocational and technical training, stronger K-12, and a top notch University.

It's time to contain the costs of government and strengthen our economy with the transportation and communications infrastructure that reliably connects our families, communities and businesses to each other and the world.

We can't keep doing what we've been doing – it's just not good enough.

I believe in Alaska. Our history is one of uniting to overcome even the greatest of odds. It is time for leadership that calls on Alaskans to put our differences aside in favor of a higher purpose: to put Alaska first.

STATEMENT:

Like many Alaskans with a diverse work history, I benefit from a familiarity with all regions of Alaska. Driving trucks on the pipeline, raising a son and a foster child, studying justice, and putting Alaskans to work in the film industry, has taught me the importance of thinking beyond just today. We can build Alaska to benefit all Alaskans. As Lt. Governor I will help the next Governor;

- Lower energy costs, get Alaskans Green-collar jobs, and start the gas-line
- Reach out to communities to improve advocacy for Veterans, the growing needs of seniors, the protection of children, and help end the cycle of violence marring Alaska's image
- Improve emergency response, and better protect our coastal communities
- Advance early education, build up the university system, and prepare more Alaskans for jobs through vocational-tech training
- Protect every Alaskan's right to vote through a safe and updated election system that is suitable for Alaska

Many of the issues on the table today are not party issues – they are people issues. These are issues discussed around kitchen tables, fish camps, and coffee shops every day. We must find common sense, non-partisan solutions to fulfill the promise of our State Constitution; that all Alaskans must benefit from the conservation and development of our resources.

We need strong leaders dedicated to upholding the Constitution and opposing the laws that infringe upon the privacy of citizens. I'm committed to protecting our freedoms, and to putting people before politics.

STATEMENT:

I'm not going to stand on a platform of blowing my own horn or on credentialism, chest beating or personality. But I will take a stand on the issues, and that's what matters, because no one else will.

I'm an ordinary working person much like yourself. I have come to understand that the structure of government is no longer for people like you and me; but is a self-serving, self-sustaining, self-replicating, all-consuming and defacating bureaucracy that is designed to serve the needs of the bureaucrats and not us, be it simply to line their own pockets, or to install their own pet social engineering programs for us to live by. It's time to turn that around now!

You can start by making your vote, count; not by supporting someone who is against what you want, but by supporting someone who is for what you want. By voting for a lesser of two evils, you only perpetuate an already corrupt system by giving your support. The so called two party system is evil by its very nature, because it has become one party with two names, and is monopolistic; the difference being that this monopoly has armed enforcement agencies to make you live the way they want. Republicans govern like socialists. Democrats govern like communists.

It's time for a change. It's time to tell the bureaucrats to take a hike. It's time to take the future into your own hands. It's time for us all to reclaim ownership of our lives.

I am running for office because I am tired of politics as usual. No matter what side of the fence you may sit on, it is obvious to see the government has sold you out. This is no longer a government of the people, by the people, and for the people. It is time to throw out the garbage and the career politicians. Our elected officials are supposed to work for us, serve their time, and get out. It was never meant to be a life long members club.

The level of waste and carelessness of our officials is absurd. We should demand our officials stop the needless spending. We should stop letting them take away our rights and freedoms. It is time to demand liberty. It is time to demand sanity. Think outside the box and vote Libertarian this fall.

STATEMENT:

I'm running for governor because I have a passion for Alaskans. I'm dedicated to growing our economy and safe, healthy families. We've made real progress.

Construction of a gas pipeline is closer than it's ever been, and I'm working to make sure Alaska's gas gets to market by any means possible. I signed legislation moving us toward constructing an in-state gasline because I'm committed to bringing low cost energy to Alaskan homes and businesses.

In addition to moving us closer to gasline construction, I've proposed tax reductions for Alaskans, created tax incentives for the oil and gas industry, cut tourism taxes, put Alaskans to work with a deferred maintenance plan, and we're building roads to resources.

I stand up to federal encroachment mandates, and regulations every day. We've joined the lawsuit against federal health care reform and successfully fought for economic development in our state.

Besides growing our economy, I'm committed to making sure our families are safe and our children's future bright.

To that end, I successfully championed tougher penalties for abusive criminals and increased support for victims. Because of the Alaska Performance Scholarship, students who challenge themselves by completing a more rigorous curriculum can earn tuition scholarships for college or vocational training. I took a stand for Alaska's families by vetoing funding that could have gone to abortions instead of the health care Alaska's children need.

My greatest interest is making a difference for Alaskans at this important time in our history.

STATEMENT:

In the past year, my frustration with the runaway cost and growth of government has skyrocketed. The federal government is focused on taking our money, our liberties and our resources. We are very vulnerable here in Alaska.

I'm running for Lieutenant Governor because Alaska needs elected leaders in every office who will stand up to Washington and ensure that the federal government deals with Alaska's issues on Alaska's terms. I've fought for Alaska's right to make our own decisions on natural resource development and fish and game management for over thirty years. You can count on me to be a strong voice to fight the federal policies that hurt Alaska.

I'll work to fill up our oil pipeline, build our gas pipeline, and diversify our economy to create jobs with a future.

I'm an entrepreneur who helped start companies that compete in today's global marketplace. I've brought high technology jobs to Alaska including the Kodiak Launch Complex and the ground based missile defense installation at Fort Greely.

I'm a Constitutional Conservative who is committed to defending the Second Amendment and Alaska's Tenth Amendment rights. Alaskans can count on me to protect our Permanent Fund Dividend, oppose all state income tax and state sales tax schemes, and share our state's resource revenues with cities and boroughs to hold down local sales and property taxes.

As the widowed father of three teenagers, I am committed to protecting Alaska families and support Ballot Measure 2, the Parental Notification Initiative.

I am honored to be a candidate for Ketchikan, Saxman, Prince of Wales and Meyers Chuck. I'm not interested in partisan politics, but instead will address the challenges we face head on. As a lifelong resident of the state, and a long time resident of southern southeast Alaska, I am prepared to represent your interests.

We face some challenging times ahead that will require strong decisive leadership. These will be my main areas of focus.

Economy: I will work to stabilize our local economy, create incentives for business and industry to invest in Ketchikan and Prince of Wales, and bring new jobs to the area in timber, fishing, tourism, and mining. I will also work to address the State's long term budget issues, and prepare for the time when our oil runs out.

Energy: Now is the time to address our spiraling energy costs. I will support renewable energy solutions to provide clean sustainable power and fuel to our communities, while at the same time creating new industries and new jobs.

STATEMENT:
I believe the hardworking communities of Southeast Alaska face continuing challenges that demand a new representative with energy and dedication.

I am the grandson of a pulp mill general manager and the son of an Alaska mayor. I was raised in Sitka and have been shaped by the families, businesses, industries and institutions that give this region its character and pride.

Over the last decade, a gap in state policy, services and support has placed Southeast Alaska at a disadvantage. Communities in District 2 have lost ground on energy, ferries, capital improvements and basic services that affect livability and foster economic activity.

With experience in local government, my emphasis is the affordability and advancement of the communities within our district. Our priorities can be achieved by:

- Rebuilding relationships with Southcentral legislators whose support is critical for adequate program and capital funding.
- Defending the statewide benefits of a healthy Southeast economy.
- Preparing a new representative for influential committee responsibilities.
- Restoring social, cultural and economic connections between communities.

The inputs to our Southeast economy are often constrained so that our private and public investments are underutilized. Our economic health can be revitalized by:

- Meaningful state support for hydroelectric energy and transmission projects.
- Sound science to manage forest, fish and game.
- Sufficient funding to support adequate ferry operations.
- Maximizing economic opportunities in the emerging Forest Service Transition Framework.
- Continued support for government duties (public safety, education, resource management).

STATEMENT:

With your input and support, we have accomplished much in the years I have served as your Representative. Over the past 10 years, I have built strong relationships with my fellow legislators and department administrators. These relationships are critical to getting legislation passed for Southeast Alaska. Seniority does make a difference!

The last two years I have served as Transportation Committee Chair where we have made several positive changes supporting better transportation infrastructure. My current goal is to set up a dedicated Transportation Fund that will allow long term planning and purchasing of needed infrastructure, including increasing ferry service which will help meet both local and tourism needs.

I am a strong supporter of the responsible use of all natural resources. In southeast fishing is critical to our economy and livelihood. As a Resource Committee member, I get to weigh in on every fisheries bill that passes through the legislature.

I am a strong supporter of education and have brought change to our schools through legislation and increased funding.

My door is always open. One of my greatest joys is helping you, my constituents. During session, I communicate with you through regular radio and newspaper commentaries. I want you to be informed about what the legislature is doing so you can provide your input.

I believe elected officials should be fair, honest, and truthful. I am! I will make the tough choices you demand and will continue to work hard for you and your families. Thank you for your vote.

STATEMENT:

I want to keep working as Juneau's State Senator. I had a successful first session, working to pass significant legislation and secure funding for meaningful community projects. I served on the Judiciary, Legislative Council, and powerful Senate Finance Committees, and helped constituents - working hard on your behalf. I'll keep working hard for you the next four years.

I'm dedicated to doing what's best for Juneau and the rest of the state. My goals for the next four years include keeping the capital in Juneau; returning to a defined benefits retirement system; boosting our university and K-12 education; growing our economy; ensuring we have quality senior and child care.

Alaska is a resource state. I got quite an education on oil & gas taxes this past legislative session, but Alaska is also rich in renewable resources. I'm proud that we passed the Sustainable Energy Act of 2010, and in the next four years, I know we can do more to pioneer new sustainable energy technologies, create green jobs, and transition our communities off expensive diesel. I know that development of our resources must include responsible stewardship of our land.

I was born and raised in Juneau. Our hometown is an interesting and lively place to live, work, and raise a family. That's why decisions made by government should be reasonable and as your senator, I'll continue to strive for that. Thanks for your support. I hope you'll feel welcome to contact me - just call, write, or visit my office.

Thank you for voting. I am running for re-election to the House of Representatives in District 3. I have been proud to serve you, and I would like to continue my public service. During the last four years, I have led the House Democratic Caucus as Minority Leader. I have worked hard to keep the capital in Juneau, build a gasline, and promote sustainable communities through renewable energy development in Alaska. I have also worked on justice issues, including making sure victims of crime are treated fairly and with respect.

I am proud of the work the House Democratic Caucus and I have accomplished and there is more to do. Here in Southeast Alaska we must focus on strengthening our economy, including good jobs and affordable communities. Other goals for the next two years include: securing a gasline, rebuilding our marine highway system, being sure all Alaskans have access to health care, establishing excellent long term senior care, child care and education (kindergarten through college), and focusing on a solid fiscal plan to get us out of the boom and bust cycle.

STATEMENT:

Dear Juneau Resident,

Representing Juneau during the 26th Alaska Legislature has been an honor.

Our victories came in numerous packages. More than $60 million in direct capital appropriations, no hearings on capital move legislation, a new Alaska Class ferry, passage of legislation that ends federal litigation with the cruise industry and directs $5 per passenger in state fees to Juneau, resolution of correctional officer contracts and passage of numerous legislative priorities.

Landmark energy legislation includes funding for emerging technologies and development of alternative energy infrastructure, a Southeast energy fund, statewide energy policy and $250 million in AHFC bonding for energy efficiency upgrades to public buildings.

As your legislator, my goal is to ensure that all of our economic sectors are healthy. I have worked closely with State Government Employee groups, the Alaska Miners Association, Alaska Tourism businesses and the United Fishermen of Alaska to ensure that helpful legislation is approved, and policies that impede growth and prosperity are kept in check.

Your input makes the difference. Thank you for the phone calls, emails, letters, public opinion messages and personal visits. The common thread we all share is our care and concern for this special place we call home.

My favorite part of the job is the chance to work with you to resolve individual and community problems. Please don't hesitate to call or drop by whenever I can be of assistance.

Sincerely, Cathy Muñoz

STATEMENT:

I have been a commercial fisherman for the last 35 years. I own/operate a marine refrigeration business and have fished multi-gear, multi-species. Over the years, I've seen living in coastal communities become more difficult as utility and heating costs rise, jobs become scarce and transportation often proves unreliable.

My commitment to you:

*Legislative leadership on high utility and heating costs

Utility and heating costs are a significant portion of everyone's monthly household costs. Cooperative leadership, regardless of political party, will bring affordable and alternative energy solutions for everyone and get costs under control so we can afford to live in our communities.

*Science-based Fisheries Management

Sustainable and well-managed fisheries are critical to our families, our communities and our cultures. I have the hard won life experience, common sense and independent optimism all fisherman have. I'll put it to work making sure our fisheries survive and thrive.

*Regular, Reliable and Affordable Marine Highway System

The Alaska Marine Highway will always be needed, no matter how many roads are planned or debated. Regular, reliable and affordable service creates jobs and keeps coastal communities accessible and sustainable.

I have been working together with my neighbors in Cordova to make our community better, and with your vote, I stand ready to serve District 5. Fishermen are optimists - we have to be. Hard work and smart planning with an independent voice for all communities in our district is needed now, more than ever. I'd appreciate your vote on November 2nd.

STATEMENT:

I would be honored to represent the people of District 33 as your Representative.

For too long, legislators have allowed undue influence by lobbyists. Bills that would benefit the people are left in committee to languish and die. This is what happened to the gas gouging bill (HB 68) which was held in committee by the chair for two years. Meanwhile, our gas prices remain among the highest in the nation.

Alaskans should be able to heat their homes at an affordable price. Leases should not be held for years with no production. A gas pipeline has been studied for years with little progress.

Alaskan residents should have priority for jobs. We need local hire if companies want to continue to do business in Alaska along with making sure proper job training opportunities are available.

Fish is a healthy and valuable resource. Protection of watersheds should be a primary concern.

Transportation dollars need to be spent on maintaining, improving and constructing roads where people live, work and play.

An educated citizenry is vital for the future of our state. Providing avenues for a successful career path should continue to be funded along with support for our public schools.

Healthy children are happy children who can learn and grow into responsible adults. Denali Kidcare should be funded to the maximum.

I pledge to not accept one dime from lobbyists. We need to drop party labels and be concerned for the welfare of all Alaskans. I appreciate your vote.

STATEMENT:

It has been an honor and a privilege to represent you in Juneau for the past six years. I am running for re-election so that I may continue to work on the challenges currently facing Alaska. At the top of the list is determining the most efficient way to monetize our oil and gas resources. Recently, improvements in technology opened new gas fields in the Lower 48 and elsewhere, making our North Slope gas less competitive for the foreseeable future. Our best option appears to be utilizing our gas in-state, not only for heating and power generation, but to encourage development of value-added products such as fertilizer, propane and plastics.

The 26th Legislature was a success. We were finally able to forward fund education we put away funds for future lean years, and we again paid down a portion of the PERS/TRS retirement deficit. There has been significant improvement to local roads including the Sterling Highway and K-Beach Road. As chairman of the Labor and Commerce Committee I had considerable impact on a number of bills. I currently represent the Legislature on three national organizations: The National Council of Insurance Legislators, The Energy Council, and the Interstate Insurance Product Review Committee. These organizations give me the opportunity to interface with fellow legislators from around the country on issues and policies that have a direct impact on Alaska.

Thank you again for allowing me to represent you. I am asking for your vote and will continue to uphold your trust.

STATEMENT:

Since the founding of this great Nation there has been a struggle between Unalienable Rights/States Rights and Central Government power. We have reached a pivotal point in history. It is critical WE THE PEOPLE OF ALASKA take a stand against the Central Government power. Many politicians talk about standing, few do.

As an adult I understand my responsibility to my family first. Ultimately my family's safety is my responsibility. Governments were established to protect the family/community/nation. History tells us they are necessary, but potentially evil. It appears most of our nation's governments, Federal/State and Local, have lost their way. Recognizing the need for self protection, I have been instrumental in establishing militias and supporting militias.

Understanding there are only 5 ways to change government, I have also taken a Constitutional and peaceful stand against financial support of the central government. I have not filed with the IRS for 19 years. Since April they have started to take 90% of my payroll check I refuse to negotiate with the most successful terrorist organization in the nation, the IRS.

Others may talk about standing up to the Central Government, but where is their action? There is an old saying-"those that can do; those that can't teach." I am a doer. If elected I will send a strong message to Washington.

Alaska has had enough. Isn't it time we do it ourselves?

Remember that power relinquishes nothing without opposition. I ask for your support. Vote Southwell

STATEMENT:

I am running for re-election to the Alaska Senate. It has been an honor and a pleasure to serve you in District R for 8 years. Counting 2 years in the House, I have now served for 10 years as a legislator. I have been Senate President for the past two years and Majority Leader for four years before that. I have enjoyed my 6 years in leadership and have learned enormous lessons about how the legislature works and how to best assist the communities I represent.

My priorities include excellence in education, helping to find solutions to the high dropout rate in our public schools and the low graduation rate in higher education, maintaining a healthy economy and well paying jobs, continue to add to our savings account as a hedge against future oil declines, moving ahead on the gas pipeline, protecting our fishing and tourism industries, and support for our veterans and seniors.

I have served as an elected public official for 26 years, as Borough Mayor, City Mayor and School Board President, as well as in the legislature. That experience has given me a good understanding of the needs of all levels of government here in our district.

I believe in the importance of family values. Rita and I have been married for 36 years and we have three grown children, Anna, Matthew and Natalie.

I promise to continue to provide this district with the best possible representation I can in the Alaska Senate.

STATEMENT:

Paul Seaton is a proven leader. Paul recognizes that a solid fiscal plan includes a steady revenue source for the State. Industry must compensate Alaskans for their use of resources. He sponsored a restructuring of the mining taxes and fought for an equitable tax structure on Alaska's oil and gas fields.

Paul believes the State needs to help fund local government. Paul is committed to developing the infrastructure for a strong local economy and worked to get funding for needed roads, harbors, senior housing, and city projects. He was one of 2 Representatives to receive an A+ rating from the Alaska State Chamber for his commitment to developing a sustainable business climate.

Paul supports education funding that reflects the varied cost of educating our children on the Kenai Peninsula. He is chairman of both the House Education Committee and the 'area cost differential' Commission. He was a leader in the effort to develop a statewide merit scholarship program.

Paul promotes affordable and accessible local health care. He sponsored legislation to promote dental health and supported programs that bring the best trained medical professionals to more regions of the State.

Paul works hard to ensure resource development is responsive to our communities. He was able to reverse harmful regulations that would allow toxic chemicals to be dumped in salmon spawning streams. Paul was awarded the 2006 Lowell Thomas Jr. Award for Outstanding Civil Service in recognition of his stewardship and the 2010 Alaska Youth for Environmental Action legislative award.

Alaska's Ballot Counting System

Your Vote is Secure!

Alaska uses three different methods to count ballots:

- Hand-count
- Optical Scan
- Touch Screen equipped with voter-verifiable paper audit trail

Alaska's ballot tabulation system has a paper trail of every ballot cast. Each precinct receives paper ballots that are either hand-counted when the polls close or counted using an optical scan unit as the voter inserts the ballot into the optical scan. In addition, during federal elections, each precinct has a touch screen voting unit equipped with a voter-verifiable paper trail that allows the voter to verify the printed version of the ballot prior to casting the ballot.

The ballot tabulation system used in Alaska to produce and count ballots is federally certified and is thoroughly tested prior to each election. It is a stand-alone system that is not connected to the internet or to a network.

Each optical scan and touch screen voting unit, along with their corresponding memory cards are tested prior to the election. A functionality test is conducted to ensure the equipment is in proper working order. Two different logic and accuracy tests are performed, by two different bi-partisan boards, on memory cards to ensure the cards are counting the ballots correctly.

In addition to the pre-election testing, the division is required by law to conduct a verification of machine counts by hand-counting ballots from a random sampling of precincts. In fact, through this verification, 5% of the ballots cast in each of the 40 house districts throughout Alaska are hand-counted after the election to verify the election results are accurate. If we find a discrepancy of more than 1% in the hand-count verification, we are required to hand-count all of the ballots cast in the district.

With all the testing, security and verification processes used by the Division of Elections during each election, you can go to the polls knowing that your vote is secure and that it will be accurately counted and reported.

Your Vote Counts

Alaska is known to have close elections. As you can see by the below close election results, just a few votes can make a difference:

|------|--|
| 2008 | FOUR votes elected Mike Kelly to the State House in District 7 over Karl Kassel in the General Election, following a recount. |
| 2006 | ZERO votes separated Bryce Edgmon from Carl Moses in State House District 37 in the Primary Election. Tied with 767 votes each as a result of the outcome of an appeal to a recount, a coin toss determined that Bryce Edgmon was the winner. |
| 2004 | FIFTY-NINE votes (3 per precinct) elected William Thomas to the State House in District 5 over Tim June in the General Election, following a recount. |
| 2002 | THIRTY-SIX votes (three per precinct) elected Mike Hawker to the State House in District 32 over Patricia Abney in the General Election, following a recount. |
| 2002 | TWELVE votes (less than two per precinct) gave Denny Pearson the Alaska Democratic Party's nomination over Robert E. Allen for State House in District 2 in the Primary Election. |
| 2000 | FIFTY-FOUR votes (less than two per precinct) elected Carl Morgan over Irene Nicholia to the State House in District 36 in the General Election. |

In 2010, YOUR VOTE could make a difference between a candidate winning and losing.

districts. Consideration may be given to local government boundaries. Drainage and other geographic features shall be used in describing boundaries wherever possible.

* Sec. 4. Article XV, Constitution of the State of Alaska, is amended by adding a new section to read:

Section 30. Applicability of Amendments Increasing the Number of Members in the Legislature. The 2010 amendments increasing the number of members in the legislature (art. II, sec. 1, and art. VI, secs. 4 and 6) apply only to plans for redistricting and proclamations of redistricting adopted on or after January 1, 2011, and to the membership of legislatures subject to those redistricting plans and proclamations.

Sec. 5. The amendments proposed by this resolution shall be placed before the voters of the state at the next general election in conformity with art. XIII, sec. 1, Constitution of the State of Alaska, and the election laws of the state.

STATEMENT IN SUPPORT

Ballot Measure One will give Alaskan citizens more voice in state government. It is a constitutional amendment which will increase the number of election districts by adding four house districts and two senate districts. Currently, the Alaska Constitution sets the number of election districts at forty house and twenty senate districts. The state constitution says that election districts should be composed of compact and integrated socioeconomic units. After every census, election district boundaries are adjusted to reflect population changes and insure all districts have the same some number of voters. In Alaska, several districts already span vast distances and have entirely dissimilar local economies. Without any changes, in the upcoming redistricting process some districts will become so large and diverse it will be impossible for these areas to receive meaningful representation.

The additional election districts mean that all election districts in Alaska will have fewer people and a smaller area than would happen under the current system. Smaller election districts are good for everyone because they bring people closer to their legislator. By reducing the size of all election districts and the number of voters in each district, this amendment will improve representation for both rural and urban areas. Ballot Measure One ensures that each Alaskan's voice in decisions that affect their lives is preserved.

Ballot Measure 1 - Constitutional Amendment

Increase Number of Legislators and Districts

STATEMENT IN OPPOSITION

Every single Alaskan voter, in fact every single Alaskan individual, from the really old to the really young, (as in newborns,) whether a voter or not, gets one Representative and one Senator to represent them. Increasing the total number of legislators does not increase any person's representation; from the oldest to the youngest, we all get one rep and one senator, whether there are 60 legislators as we now have or 66 legislators as proposed. If we vote for the increased number of legislators, than each person has even less representation than before since one legislator out of 60 (existing number) gives you more representation than one out of 66 (new number.) What's more, adding six more legislators will substantially increase the cost of government. Adding the four additional Representatives and two additional Senators will require not only the new salaries for these six people, but also salaries for their 15 additional staffers they are allowed to hire, plus the cost to add six new offices and all the computers, printers, faxes, copiers, plus extra maintenance and tech support, not to mention additional building and maintenance costs and more custodial personnel to clean up after them. Then there is the cost to construct and maintain six new offices in Juneau. To construct them in the existing space we will have to move walls and fixtures, maybe windows and doors, certainly lights, fixtures and cables, outlets and switches, and everything else needed to equip and run an office. Then we need to fix the walls and paint. But there's more! All these new people need office space in their home districts too. So here we go again with more construction and more equipment and more problems and ever more costs that never go away. Let's not forget that all these new salaries come with benefits, both medical and retirement, and will require additional money in the budget, money that will have to come from somewhere. After all this we still have to modify the House and Senate chambers to fit new desks in spaces that currently do not exist. That will cost plenty because everything has to be handicapped compliant. O yes, I forgot to mention parking at the Capitol which is already full so we may have to lease new space, and don't forget the air transportation to get all these new people to the Capitol and back home, every session. This is an expensive scheme and in the end each of us will still have one Representative and one Senator. So what do we get for all this extra money? Just like before, each person has one Representative and one Senator, no more, no less. 60 is plenty, end of story!

The Alaska Judicial Council Independently Evaluates the Performance of Judges and Recommends to Voters Whether Judges Should be Retained in Office

Alaskans choose their judges through a merit selection system and vote every few years on whether to keep them on the bench. The Alaska Judicial Council is a non-partisan citizens' commission established by the Alaska Constitution, independent of the Alaska Court System and the Alaska Commission on Judicial Conduct. The constitution requires the Judicial Council to nominate only the best-qualified people to the Governor for appointment to judgeships. The framers provided Alaskans with a non-partisan, merit-based system of judicial selection. The constitutional requirement that judges periodically appear on the ballot assures that judges remain accountable to the public.

To assist the public in making informed decisions, Alaska law requires the Judicial Council to independently evaluate judges' performance and authorizes the Council to recommend to voters whether judges should be retained in office. The Judicial Council reviews judges' integrity, diligence, legal ability, fairness, demeanor, ability to manage their caseloads, and overall performance of their judicial responsibilities in and out of the courtroom. State law requires the Judicial Council to publish its evaluations in the Voters' Pamphlet. Summaries of the Council's evaluations of judges standing in the November 2010 election appear on the following pages. Each judge also may pay for a page of biographical information that he or she prepares.

Summary of Alaska Judicial Council Recommendations

In 2010 the Judicial Council evaluated one supreme court justice, one court of appeals judge, and twenty-six trial court judges. With one exception, the Council found that all are QUALIFIED and recommends a YES vote on their retention. The Council found that Anchorage District Court Judge Richard W. Postma, Jr. is UNQUALIFIED and recommends a NO vote on his retention.

Judicial Council Evaluation Procedures

Surveys - The Judicial Council surveyed thousands of Alaskans about the performance of the judges on the ballot including peace and probation officers, court employees, attorneys, jurors, social workers, guardians ad litem, and child advocates. An independent contractor handled the surveys for the Judicial Council, to assure objectivity in the findings.

Judge and Counsel Questionnaires - Each judge standing for retention returned a self-evaluation questionnaire to the Judicial Council. The questionnaire included lists of recent cases that the judge believed were important for evaluation, with an emphasis on jury and non-jury trials. The Council asked each attorney in each case to fill out an additional survey about the judge's performance in that particular case, including detailed comments about the judge's abilities.

Other Records - Council staff reviewed other records, including conflict of interest annual statements filed with the Alaska Public Offices Commission and separate forms filed with the court system; court personnel records; a report on any salary warrants withheld for untimely decisions; and judicial disciplinary matters before the Commission on Judicial Conduct. The Council also reviewed the number of peremptory challenges filed against a judge and the number of reversals on appeal. The Alaska Judicial Observers, an independent group of community-based volunteer court observers, provided information to the Council about the retention judges in Anchorage who they had evaluated.

Public Hearings and Comment - The Council held statewide public hearings for all judges standing for retention, using the legislature's teleconference network and public meeting rooms. Statewide newspaper ads encouraged public participation.

Investigation – Council staff independently investigated specific concerns. Staff listened to court proceedings; reviewed court files, internal court communications, and investigative reports; and interviewed judges, attorneys, and court staff.

Other Publicity and Input - The Council publicized its evaluation process and solicited comments about judges on its website. The Council balanced all the information it received from its many sources.

Results of Evaluations

Evaluation information for each retention judge appears on the following pages. Council survey results are summarized. The Alaska Judicial Observers evaluation, where available, also is summarized. The Council's Internet web pages contain more detailed analysis of survey results and performance information about each judge on the ballot this fall. (<http://www.ajc.state.ak.us>)

Judicial Council Members

Alaska's constitution establishes the membership of the Judicial Council as three non-attorney members appointed by the Governor, three attorney members appointed by the Board of Governors of the Alaska Bar Association, and the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Alaska who serves, ex officio, as chair. (The Chief Justice only votes when his or her vote can affect an outcome.) The Constitution provides that all appointments be made with "due consideration to area representation and without regard to political affiliation." A majority of both houses of the Legislature must confirm the non-attorney appointments, while the Board of Governors of the Alaska Bar Association appoints the attorney members after conducting advisory elections among bar members within local judicial districts. Members serve six-year staggered terms. They receive no financial compensation for their work other than reimbursement for travel expenses.

Walter L. Carpeneti is chair of the Judicial Council by virtue of his position as Chief Justice of the Alaska Supreme Court. Chief Justice Carpeneti was appointed to the supreme court in 1998. Before his appointment to the supreme court, he had served as a superior court judge in Juneau for seventeen years. (Term: 2009 - 2012)

James H. Cannon is an attorney member from Fairbanks. Mr. Cannon is in private practice in Fairbanks. He has practiced law since 1975 and has been a resident of Alaska for nearly fifty years. (Term: 2006-2012)

William F. Clarke is a public member from Chugiak. He is a retired Air Force pilot and engineering marketing manager and has been a resident of Alaska for thirty-two years. (Term: 2008 – 2013)

Kevin Fitzgerald is an attorney member from Anchorage. He is a partner in Ingaldson, Maassen & Fitzgerald. He has practiced law since 1987 and is a second generation Alaskan. (Term: 2008 - 2014)

Kathleen Tompkins-Miller is a public member from Fairbanks. She is a schoolteacher and has been a resident of Alaska for sixteen years. (Term: 2009 - 2015)

Christena Williams is a public member from Ketchikan. She is a third generation Alaskan and newspaper co-publisher. She and her family own and operate Pioneer Printing Co., Inc. and the Ketchikan Daily News. (Term: 2005 - 2011)

Julie Willoughby is an attorney member from Juneau. Ms. Willoughby is in private practice in Juneau. She has practiced law since 1998 and is a second generation Alaskan. (Term: 2010 – 2016)

I am thankful for the opportunity to serve the people of Alaska as a Supreme Court Justice. During my 22 years on the bench, I have been committed to improving Alaska's justice system and deciding each case fairly and impartially according to the law. As chair of Supreme Court committees, I have worked hard to increase access to the courts and to develop procedures to ensure that cases are handled efficiently and effectively, saving time and money for the parties and the state.

Perhaps most rewarding has been my continuing work with Alaska's youth. I have coordinated the court system's statewide Law Day program in the schools in dozens of elementary, middle school, and high school classrooms and judging the statewide Mock Trial competition each year, I have tried to educate students and promote better understanding of our Constitution and the courts. By training Youth Court attorneys and judges in urban and rural communities around the state, I have tried to strengthen our juvenile justice system. By speaking to student assemblies throughout the state, I have tried to encourage young people to work hard and make good choices.

As Chief Justice, I traveled around the state, holding forums to seek creative solutions to problems faced by the justice system. I believe in promoting a strong partnership between our communities and our courts.
Alaska has been my home for 34 years. I love our state and would be honored to continue to serve.

STATEMENT:

Each case that comes before the court is important and unique. Each person deserves a fair hearing of their case. To someone in a lawsuit there is no more important decision than the one made in their case. And each person is entitled to a fair decision based on the law.

Fairness and integrity are critical to confidence in the courts. Fairness and integrity require courts be equally open to all. The public plays a vital role to ensure these principles prevail. When it supports honest judges the public helps keep courts impartial and free from the influence of special interests.

Fairness also requires a judge treat those who come before the court with courtesy and respect. Courtesy and respect are necessary to effectively communicate and ensure parties are fully heard. Courtesy and respect promote confidence that the court will come to a fair and just result. Confidence that a judge comes to a just result requires both actual fairness and the appearance of fairness. It is my continual goal that at the end of any case, whether they win or lose, the parties know the court heard and fairly considered their positions.

It is a privilege to serve as a Superior Court Judge in Southeast Alaska. Southeast is a wonderful place to live and the privilege of serving here on the Superior Court is immensely rewarding. I hope for your support so I may continue to serve the people of Alaska. Thank you.

STATEMENT:

It has been an honor and a privilege to serve Juneau and Southeast Alaska as a Superior Court Judge since 2007. I hope to be able to continue to serve in this capacity. It is a challenging job, but one that I enjoy very much.

The primary duty of a judge is exemplified by the words on the Supreme Court building: "Equal Justice Under Law." This means a judge's obligation is to administer justice equally to all persons, but bound by the law.

I believe the role of a judge is to follow the law, not to make the law. I try to explain court procedures to parties who don't have lawyers, and to be respectful and understanding of the people who appear in front of me at difficult times in their lives. The job requires a delicate balance of fairness, firmness, patience and compassion.

Respondents were asked to rate judicial performance and to submit comments. The Council also reviewed the ratings and observations of the Alaska Judicial Observers, independent community-based volunteers. The Council reviewed the judge's peremptory challenge, recusals, and appellate affirmance and reversal rates; any civil or criminal litigation involving the judge; APOC and court system conflict-of-interest statements; any disciplinary files involving the judge; and whether a judge's pay was withheld for an untimely decision. The Council reviewed other court records and investigated judicial conduct in specific cases. The Council interviewed some judges, attorneys, and court staff, and held a statewide public hearing to obtain comments about judges.

I respect the people who serve as jurors, and I try to run my trials as efficiently as possible to minimize the impact on their everyday lives. Many people come into court without an attorney and I am committed to providing them the same access to justice as those represented by an attorney. I believe I have served the State of Alaska well the last five years and if retained, I will endeavor to continue to improve my work as a judge to the utmost of my ability.

STATEMENT:

It has been my privilege to serve the Kenai Peninsula as a Superior Court Judge since Governor Palin appointed me in 2007. The court system was established to serve the community. The people who come to court are entitled to courtesy and respect. I came to the bench after 33 years in private practice with a law firm in Anchorage. The three superior court judges in Kenai handle a broad range of civil and criminal cases. I had little prior experience with felony-criminal or children-in-need-of-aid cases. The learning curve was like being back in law school.

In the small town in Eastern Oregon where I was raised, people not only knew everyone else, but knew their family histories and transgressions over the years. Although criminal conduct can be understandable in some circumstances, holding an individual or company responsible for their conduct is important. When there are two sides to a story, unraveling the truth of what really happened is a challenge. The goal is to resolve disputes fairly and equitably under the rule of law. The role of the jury is critical. The sacrifices of jurors, their employers, and their families are greatly appreciated.

If retained, I will do my best to be fair, impartial, timely, and worthy of your trust.

STATEMENT:
It has been an honor and privilege to serve as a trial court judge in Anchorage for the past nine years.

In my view, a judge should treat each person in the courtroom with respect, listen carefully to each person's concerns, and apply the law fairly and impartially. I also believe a judge should treat each and every case that comes to court as a unique and special case that deserves the judge's most careful consideration.

In April 2009, I was appointed by the Alaska Supreme Court's Chief Justice to serve as the presiding judge for the Third Judicial District. The presiding judge has the primary administrative responsibility for the provision of judicial services in the district - a district that includes a total of 12 court locations from Unalaska to Kodiak to Glennallen, and also includes Palmer, Kenai and Anchorage. As presiding judge, I have the opportunity to learn about and address the unique challenges facing each of our court locations. I have strived to ensure that the Alaska Court System is according ready access to our justice system to each litigant throughout our district.

I truly enjoy the challenges and responsibilities of being a Superior Court Judge and seek to provide many more years of public service to Alaska.

STATEMENT:

As a private attorney representing clients before the Alaskan courts for over 28 years before being appointed to the Superior Court, I know what my clients expected from the court and I strive to meet those expectations daily.

I believe it is most important to remember that being a judge is simply a form of public service. I am committed to treat everyone who becomes involved in our justice system fairly, impartially, and with respect.

A Superior Court Judge can not and should not avoid the difficult decisions on controversial issues. That is part of the job. Litigants deserve prompt decisions based on the law, not decisions that are colored by the Court's personal beliefs or wishes.

It has been a true honor and privilege to serve my state and community as a Superior Court Judge.

Alaska Judicial Council Recommendation

Judge Patrick J. McKay, Superior Court, Anchorage

Judicial Council Recommendation 2010

The Alaska Judicial Council is a non-partisan citizens' commission established by the Alaska constitution. Alaskan law requires the Council to evaluate judges' performance and authorizes the Council to recommend to voters whether judges should be retained in office. The Judicial Council reviews judges' integrity, diligence, legal ability, fairness, demeanor, ability to manage their caseloads, and overall performance of their judicial responsibilities in and out of the courtroom. Judge McKay was reprimanded by the Alaska Supreme Court as a result of the judge's conviction for Driving Under the Influence. Judge McKay responded honestly and constructively to this reprimand and complied with the court's treatment requirements and other conditions in every respect. The Judicial Council finds Judge McKay to be Qualified and recommends unanimously that the public vote "YES" to retain him as a superior court judge.

Judicial Council Evaluation

The Judicial Council surveyed thousands of Alaskans including peace and probation officers, court employees, attorneys, jurors, social workers/guardians ad litem, and child advocates about the judges on the ballot. Respondents were asked to rate judicial performance and to submit comments. The Council also reviewed the ratings and observations of the Alaska Judicial Observers, independent community-based volunteers. The Council reviewed the judge's peremptory challenge, recusals, and appellate affirmance and reversal rates; any civil or criminal litigation involving the judge; APOC and court system conflict-of-interest statements; any disciplinary files involving the judge; and whether a judge's pay was withheld for an untimely decision. The Council reviewed other court records and investigated judicial conduct in specific cases. The Council interviewed some judges, attorneys, and court staff, and held a statewide public hearing to obtain comments about judges.

STATEMENT:

I have been honored to serve as a judge for almost ten years and I have found each year to be a rewarding experience. I am particularly interested in cases involving children and for that reason have served for the past seven years as the judge for the Alaska Family CARE Court, a problem solving court for families. The Court's mission is to break the cycle of addiction, child abuse and neglect. One day a week I also act as a settlement judge for cases assigned to other judges. This work allows the public to more directly solve their own disputes.

I believe that the law is held in trust for all people, not just the rich and powerful, and that justice should be the primary focus of our court system. I believe that all persons should have access to our courts, not just those who can afford a lawyer. I understand the legal system is very expensive for most people and have worked to improve access to the courts for those who cannot afford a lawyer. If retained I will continue to work hard toward these goals.

I was raised in a military family where I learned discipline, the benefits of hard work and organization, and an abiding appreciation for my country and my community. Because our family moved every few years, I also learned to be adaptable and to communicate well, so that I could make new friends quickly wherever we were assigned. I appreciate that this upbringing allowed me to see much of our country, and that the skills I learned have helped me personally and professionally as an adult.

STATEMENT:

I began my work as a Palmer judge on February 1, 2007. From that date to this, just before I enter the courtroom each day, I recite four words to myself: patience, common sense, and humility. These are the personal qualities that I strive to achieve as I decide the future of my fellow citizens.

It has been an extremely rewarding experience to serve the Mat-Su Valley for nearly four years. I have come to appreciate a great many of the attributes of this part of our State: its natural beauty, the pride and industry of its residents, and the evolving infrastructure of governmental, community, and private organizations which support this network of communities as they grow and prosper.

I have tried to contribute to the healthy development of the Valley. I listen carefully to everyone who appears in my courtroom, whether they are there because they broke the law, because they were the victim of a crime, or because they need help creating a new model for a family that is breaking apart. I try to help when and where I can, and always I remember that my job is to protect the men, women and children who call the Valley their home.

I hope that you will allow me to continue this service, working to the best of my ability every day to make a positive contribution to the citizens of the Mat-Su Valley.

STATEMENT:

I have lived in Alaska since 1972. After attending college and law school, I returned to Alaska because of my strong desire to stay in Alaska and serve the community where I was raised. As an Assistant District Attorney and Assistant Attorney General in Anchorage, Barrow, Fairbanks, and Palmer, I became familiar with the issues that face all Alaskans when they become involved with our justice system. This experience has enabled me to deal efficiently and fairly with the high volume of cases in the Anchorage district court. In criminal cases, I strive to make sentencing decisions that meet both the needs of the community and the victim, as well as addressing a defendant's rehabilitation. In civil cases, I listen carefully to the parties and take the time to reach decisions that are well reasoned and just.

Within the court system itself, I have worked collaboratively with other judges to make hearings more efficient for the public, and I have worked to ensure that participants in small claims cases have access to free mediators.

I am committed to treating everyone who becomes involved in our justice system fairly and with respect. I have greatly enjoyed both serving and being a member of this community for the past 38 years, and I hope to continue serving as a judge in Anchorage.

Alaska Judicial Council Recommendation

Judge Brian K. Clark, District Court, Anchorage

Judicial Council Recommendation 2010

The Alaska Judicial Council is a non-partisan citizens' commission established by the Alaska constitution. Alaskan law requires the Council to evaluate judges' performance and authorizes the Council to recommend to voters whether judges should be retained in office. The Judicial Council reviews judges' integrity, diligence, legal ability, fairness, demeanor, ability to manage their caseloads, and overall performance of their judicial responsibilities in and out of the courtroom. The Judicial Council finds Judge Clark to be Qualified and recommends unanimously that the public vote "YES" to retain him as a district court judge.

Judicial Council Evaluation

The Judicial Council surveyed thousands of Alaskans including peace and probation officers, court employees, attorneys, jurors, social workers/guardians ad litem, and child advocates about the judges on the ballot. Respondents were asked to rate judicial performance and to submit comments. The Council also reviewed the ratings and observations of the Alaska Judicial Observers, independent community-based volunteers. The Council reviewed the judge's peremptory challenge, recusals, and appellate affirmance and reversal rates; any civil or criminal litigation involving the judge; APOC and court system conflict-of-interest statements; any disciplinary files involving the judge; and whether a judge's pay was withheld for an untimely decision. The Council reviewed other court records and investigated judicial conduct in specific cases. The Council interviewed some judges, attorneys, and court staff, and held a statewide public hearing to obtain comments about judges.

STATEMENT:

I love working in the Palmer District Court. This is the "ounce of prevention" court. We deal with the majority of the courts' cases, 80% of the criminal cases, and deal with the widest variety of human misfortune. I look, in each case, for a "silver lining" under the theory that each is an opportunity for the person to get the education, skills and tools that can help them to avoid coming back to court as a party.

I believe that patience, respect and understanding go a long way toward helping people, who have been brought to court, to find their way to a better future, not only for themselves but for the community, the families, victims and others involved. Looking forward, I hope to continue to serve my community and to improve the quality of outcomes and legal practice in the Palmer Courts.

STATEMENT:

I fell in love with Alaska when my husband and I came here on vacation in 1990. After I was fortunate enough to get an Assistant District Attorney position in Kenai, we moved to the Peninsula. I appreciated the opportunity to serve as District Attorney in Kenai or five years and as a prosecuting attorney in the violent crimes unit of the Anchorage District Attorney's Office from 2002 until I became a judicial officer in 2007. I have been honored to serve for over three years now as the only district court judge in Kenai.

The purpose of the court system is to serve the people. I strive to treat everyone with fairness and respect. I try to always make certain that the citizens who appear in court without attorneys understand what is happening and what options are available. Jurors fill an important role in the justice system and I am committed to honoring their time. I consider each case before me carefully and impartially and always strive to maintain the integrity that citizens are entitled to expect from judges.

It has been an honor and a privilege to serve Alaskans as the district court judge in Kenai. If retained, I will continue to serve to the utmost of my ability.

STATEMENT:
I have been privileged and honored to serve our community as a District Court Judge. I am committed to public service and am motivated to make our court system better. The Judicial Council's surveys show that jurors, attorneys and police officers who have been in court with me approve of my performance as a judge, my judicial temperament and legal ability, and have found me to be impartial, fair, diligent, and courteous and respectful to parties. Their ratings demonstrate my fitness and ability as a judge.

A court system should be open to internal accountability, change and improvement, and should follow the same rules and standards it expects of the public. Anchorage can have such a court system if it is willing to move beyond "that's the way we've always done it." Because judges should not cut corners, I have objected to the Anchorage practice of pre-signing orders before jail hearings. Because parties should know the reasons for a ruling, I issue written decisions when in the best interest of justice, even if not required by the rules. I have disagreed with the extensive use of a centralized calendaring system by the Anchorage District court, the only court in Alaska to use it, because it is inefficient and interferes with a judge's independent responsibility to manage cases.

Anchorage deserves a judge who will do what is right even when that is difficult. I am that judge. I would appreciate your continued support and your vote for retention.

Alaska Judicial Council Recommendation

Judge Richard W. Postma, Jr. District Court, Anchorage

Judicial Council Recommendation 2010

The Alaska Judicial Council is a non-partisan citizens' commission established by the Alaska constitution. Alaskan law requires the Council to evaluate judges' performance and authorizes the Council to recommend to voters whether judges should be retained in office. The Judicial Council reviews judges' integrity, diligence, legal ability, fairness, demeanor, ability to manage their caseloads, and overall performance of their judicial responsibilities in and out of the courtroom.

After becoming aware of concerns about Anchorage District Court Judge Richard Postma's judicial performance, the Alaska Judicial Council conducted an independent review and met with Judge Postma to provide him with an opportunity to be heard. After that review and meeting, the Judicial Council found that Judge Postma has experienced persistent difficulty in coping with the Anchorage District Court caseload and stressful situations. Judge Postma has lacked patience, dignity, and courtesy in his communications which has contributed to constant friction between Judge Postma and other judges, court administrators, and court staff. Judge Postma has a tendency to lose his temper. Judge Postma's characterization of past events has often been inconsistent with other documented information. Judge Postma has prioritized his personal needs over his judicial responsibilities.

A different and separate state entity, the Alaska Commission on Judicial Conduct has constitutional responsibility to address problems of judicial conduct and responsibility. The Commission has found probable cause that Judge Postma violated Alaska law and Alaska's Code of Judicial Conduct by engaging in inappropriate communications with fellow judges and court staff and by willfully violating confidentiality requirements. The Commission has also found probable cause that Judge Postma's personal needs take precedence over his judicial duties and require unreasonable accommodations. An independent mental health expert retained by the Alaska Commission on Judicial Conduct has determined that Judge Postma suffers from a combination of mental health difficulties that is or may become permanent and which render him unable to fulfill the duties of his office.

The Alaska Court System, a third independent constitutional body, unsuccessfully attempted to work with Judge Postma to improve the situation. The court decreased the judge's responsibilities, placed the judge on paid administrative leave, and temporarily assigned the judge to a different venue. These efforts have not been successful in improving Judge Postma's ability to function as a judge on the Anchorage District Court.

Judges must be fair and judicial in the courtroom and in their conduct off the bench. The Alaska Judicial Council concludes that, while performing acceptably on the bench, Judge Postma demonstrated an inability to function appropriately with other judges and court staff and that he did so in a manner that seriously interfered with the performance of his judicial duties, disrupted the functioning of the Anchorage District Court, and makes him unfit to retain his office. The Judicial Council finds Judge Postma to be Unqualified and recommends with a 5-1 vote that the public vote "No" on his retention as a district court judge.

Summary of Survey Information

Survey respondents rated Judge Postma on the categories summarized in the table below, using 5 as the highest rating possible. The attorney rating for Judge Postma on overall performance was 3.7. Peace and probation officers gave Judge Postma a rating of 4.1. Jurors rated him 4.9 overall, and court employees gave him 3.1. No social workers, guardians ad litem or CASA volunteers rated Judge Postma. Alaska Judicial Observers rated him 2.86.

STATEMENT:

It has been my honor since August of 1992 to serve the people of the State of Alaska as a district court judge.

The vast majority of you who have contact with any court in the state have contact with the district court.

Many people appear in the district court without attorneys. I am committed to providing individuals who seek to have legal issues resolved in the court with the same kind of access to the justice system that individuals with lawyers have.

Many of you have or will serve as jurors. I am committed to treating jurors with courtesy and appreciation for their service.

I strive to treat all people who come to the court - individuals, attorneys, jurors and others - with respect and fairness and to assist them in understanding and using their court system.

If retained, I will continue to uphold my oath of office by providing the public with an accessible, fair and impartial forum for dispute resolution.

Judge Stephanie Rhoades, District Court, Anchorage

Judicial Council Recommendation 2010

The Alaska Judicial Council is a non-partisan citizens' commission established by the Alaska constitution. Alaskan law requires the Council to evaluate judges' performance and authorizes the Council to recommend to voters whether judges should be retained in office. The Judicial Council reviews judges' integrity, diligence, legal ability, fairness, demeanor, ability to manage their caseloads, and overall performance of their judicial responsibilities in and out of the courtroom. The Judicial Council finds Judge Rhoades to be Qualified and recommends unanimously that the public vote "YES" to retain her as a district court judge.

Judicial Council Evaluation

The Judicial Council surveyed thousands of Alaskans including peace and probation officers, court employees, attorneys, jurors, social workers/guardians ad litem, and child advocates about the judges on the ballot. Respondents were asked to rate judicial performance and to submit comments. The Council also reviewed the ratings and observations of the Alaska Judicial Observers, independent community-based volunteers. The Council reviewed the judge's peremptory challenge, recusals, and appellate affirmation and reversal rates; any civil or criminal litigation involving the judge; APOC and court system conflict-of-interest statements; any disciplinary files involving the judge; and whether a judge's pay was withheld for an untimely decision. The Council reviewed other court records and investigated judicial conduct in specific cases. The Council interviewed some judges, attorneys, and court staff, and held a statewide public hearing to obtain comments about judges.

STATEMENT:

It has been a privilege for me to serve as a District Court Judge. I am grateful for the positive recommendation of the Alaska Judicial Council.

I am honored to be a member of what I believe to be among the finest judicial systems in the country.

I work hard to provide a forum that is fair to all parties and to treat all who appear before me with courtesy and respect. I try to consider each case in a careful, impartial and thoughtful manner and to render a judgment that is impartial and in accordance with the law.

I have welcomed opportunities to promote respect for democratic principles and our system of justice by speaking to groups such as youth court graduations and by participating in mock trial with school classes.

The job of a judge requires constant study to remain current in the law and to learn new ways to improve the administration of justice. In addition to private study, I have pursued educational opportunities such as legal seminars to improve my performance as a judge.

I have always strived to conduct myself with integrity, humility and diligence. If retained I will continue to perform my duties to the best of my ability and endeavor to be worthy of the job entrusted to me.

ALASKA REPUBLICAN PARTY

"Government is not the giver of rights; only God confers these to the people. People create government, giving it certain and limited powers. Only eternal vigilance by the people will confine government to its proper role"

Joseph E. Vogler, Founder of the Alaskan Independence Party

The origins of the Alaskan Independence Party date back to the early 1970's, but it wasn't until 1984 that it became an "officially recognized" party by the State of Alaska. Advocating an "Alaska First" policy focused around land and resource development, AIP has since emerged as one of the most significant state-level third parties operating in the late 20th century.

The AIP believes full compliance with the Constitutions of the United States and the State of Alaska is necessary.

The AIP supports and defends States' Rights, Individual Rights, and the Equal Footing Doctrine as guaranteed by the constitutions of the United States and the state of Alaska.

The AIP supports a constitutional amendment abolishing and prohibiting all property taxes.

The AIP supports the right of the individual to keep and bear arms.

The AIP supports the complete abolition of the concept of sovereign or governmental immunity, so as to restore accountability for public servants.

The AIP supports providing for the direct popular election of the attorney general, all judges, and all magistrates.

The AIP supports the right of jurors to judge the law as well as the facts, according to their conscience.

The AIP supports the rights of parents to privately or home school their children.

The AIP wishes to preserve and protect the Alaska Permanent Fund, earnings, and individual Permanent Fund Dividends.

The AIP advocates the convening of a State Constitutional Convention at the constitutionally designated 10 year interval.

The Alaskan Independence Party is the only Alaskan political party that is entirely comprised of Alaskans, staffed by Alaskans and financed by Alaskans.

We affirm that all political power is inherent in the people; that all government originates with the people, if founded on their will only, is instituted to protect the rights of the individual. We affirm all persons have a natural right to life, liberty, the pursuit of happiness, and the enjoyment of the rewards of their own industry; that all persons are equal and entitled to equal protection under the law. We stand on a firm constitutional foundation, embracing the Bill of Rights and Declaration of Independence.

ALASKA PUBLIC OFFICES COMMISSION

WHY DOES APOC EXIST?

The mission of the Alaska Public Offices Commission is to encourage public confidence in elected and appointed public officials by administering and enforcing Alaska's disclosure statutes and publishing financial information about election campaigns, public officials, lobbyists and lobbyist employers.

LAWS ADMINISTERED BY APOC

The Alaska Public Offices Commission administers and enforces four disclosure laws: AS 15.13 Campaign Disclosure, AS 24.45 Lobbying, AS 39.50 Public Official Financial Disclosure, and AS 24.60 Legislative Financial Disclosure. These laws require the disclosure of information that enables citizens to trace the influence of private interests on public decision-making. This disclosure helps to limit privileged influence through revealing special interests and exposing conflicts of interest. The laws are designed to develop accountability in government by giving the public access to information to judge the credentials and performance of public officials and candidates for public offices. The disclosure reports filed with APOC are public records.

WHO IS THE COMMISSION?

The two political parties whose candidates for governor received the most votes at the most recent gubernatorial election each nominate two commission members. The four members nominate a fifth member from applicants from the general public. The governor appoints and the legislature confirms the nominations. Terms are for five years, with a different term expiring each year. The commission currently consists of two Republican Party members, two Democratic Party members, and one public member. The commission has offices and staff in Anchorage and Juneau.

HOW CAN WE HELP YOU?

This agency is your source of information on all aspects of the disclosure laws. We are committed to fulfilling our mission by providing you with information. Most of this information can be accessed, free of charge, on the APOC website. You can find out who has contributed to a particular ballot group, which political action committees are spending the most, which lobbyists are working for which employers, who is contributing to candidates and how much is being given and spent to influence voters. APOC works with the public and those who file financial reports to make the disclosure process effective, efficient, and transparent.

For more information, visit our website or call us if you would like help getting started. You may also sign up to receive notifications and updates via email from APOC. If you have any observations, suggestions or ideas, please let us know. APOC is the public's agency and we welcome the opportunity to make it work for you.

DESIGNED for SUSTAINABILITY

Alaska Permanent Fund Corporation

LETTER FROM THE CHAIR

After two years of negative returns, markets began to recover last year, providing the Permanent Fund with a positive return of 11.7 percent for the Fiscal Year 2010. While it is certainly good to see gains instead of losses, it is important to keep in mind that markets are volatile and economic conditions remain uncertain. That is why it is so important for the Board of Trustees to remain focused on the long-term goals of the Fund, maintaining a well-diversified portfolio.

Alaska state law says that one of the goals of the Fund is to serve Alaskans of all generations, including the generations to come. The Fund's portfolio must be designed for sustainability over time. The Trustees must be equally mindful of keeping the investment risk in the portfolio within acceptable limits while seeking positive returns.

Immediately before the start of the fiscal year, we adopted a new method of categorizing the Fund's assets. This didn't change what the Fund was invested in; it simply changed how we view the Fund's investments to better understand the investment risk in the portfolio. For example, in difficult economic conditions, corporate bonds will have the same negative performance as stocks. So it is more appropriate to look at all of the exposure that the Fund has to corporations when assessing risk, rather than looking at stocks and corporate bonds separately. The Fund's target asset allocation by both traditional asset classes and the new risk categories are shown on the next page.

The performance of the recent past doesn't completely reflect the performance of the Permanent Fund over time. Since 1977 the Fund has taken in $14.7 billion in deposits from mineral royalties, court settlements and special transfers that the Legislature made from the General Fund. During that same period, the Fund paid out $18.4 billion in dividends to Alaskans and still ended Fiscal Year 2010 with a value of $33.3 billion. This simple "checkbook" accounting is a clear way to see that the Permanent Fund has been and continues to be an overwhelming success, one that Alaskans should be proud of creating. Through the Fund, we've taken a portion of our nonrenewable mineral resources and turned them into a renewable financial resource that will benefit present and future generations.

Sincerely,

Steve Frank

WHAT IS THE ALASKA PERMANENT FUND?

The Permanent Fund is an investment fund created by Alaskans in 1976 as a way to save a portion of our oil revenues for the needs of future generations. On June 30, 2010, the Fund was worth $33.3 billion.

WHO MANAGES THE PERMANENT FUND?

The Alaska Permanent Fund Corporation manages the day-to-day operations of the Fund and is overseen by a six-member Board of Trustees appointed by the governor and selected for their experience in finance, investments or other business-related fields.

HOW DOES THE FUND WORK?

The Fund is divided into two parts, principal (nonspendable) and earnings (assigned), both of which are fully invested. The Alaska Constitution says that the principal may not be spent. The earnings in the earnings reserve account may be spent by the Legislature for any purpose it wishes. Currently, earnings are only used for the Permanent Fund Dividend and transfers to the Alaska Capital Income Fund.

HOW DOES MONEY GO INTO THE EARNINGS RESERVE ACCOUNT?

Realized earnings go into the earnings reserve account. This is the income from bond interest, real estate rent payments, stock dividends and the gains from assets that are sold at a profit. Unrealized earnings remain in principal until the assets are sold.

A TWO-PART FUND
(In Billions)

HOW IS THE FUND INVESTED?

Originally, the Fund was only invested in bonds. Now it is invested in a number of different asset classes, which earn income and can grow in value. By diversifying the Fund into these different assets, the Trustees ensure that it is better protected for the future. When one asset class has a down year, it is often balanced by good performance in other asset classes.

In 2009, the Board of Trustees added a new aspect to the asset allocation with the creation of risk-based categories. While the underlying investments didn't change, grouping investments by the economic conditions that affect them allows the staff and Trustees to better understand how the Fund will perform under different market conditions.

HOW IS THE DIVIDEND DETERMINED?

Each year, the dividend distribution is calculated using a formula set in state law. The statutory net income of the Fund for the past five years is averaged, and the resulting amount is divided in half. This is the amount that is available for the dividend. Once the dividend has been calculated, the next step is to determine if enough income is available in the earnings reserve account to pay the dividend. It is possible that in a given year, while the calculation may produce a dividend amount, the balance of the earnings reserve is not sufficient to pay some or all of it. Once the maximum amount payable has been determined, the lump sum is sent to the Permanent Fund Dividend Division where it is divided by the number of eligible applicants that year.

HOW DOES THE FUND GROW?

The Fund has three sources of potential growth each year, which are listed below. For FY10, the additions and subtractions from the Fund's total value are listed in the Sources of Change in Fund Value graph.

- The state Constitution directs that at least 25% of Alaska's mineral royalties (primarily oil royalties) be deposited into the Fund.

- Income flows in from stock dividends, bond interest and real estate rental fees.
- Assets can increase (or decrease) in value over the original purchase price, whether they are sold or held in the portfolio.
