Other:

Born in Anchorage-attended school K-12 in Ephrata. Enlisted for 22 years and traveled the world. I returned to Alaska in my final assignment. This is where I envisioned being post military service. I have completed 90 percent of my education as a nontraditional student. I enjoy living in Alaska, it is my home "I'm Alaskan".

Statement:

My objective is to help in defending the constitution by empowering conservative principles to protect our individual rights. I also support a limited, responsive and responsible government with lower taxes and diversified investments. By promoting and defending our natural resources, we can change Alaska's future and our country, empowering the vision and faith to move forward safely securing our resources. Overly restrictive environments and healthcare laws need to be amended and repealed. As we are entitled to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness: we must have the agency to do the right things in protecting individual rights and standing up for the defenseless. We must also protect the rights of the unborn.

By following the Alaskan constitution and effectively utilizing all our natural resources, we can strengthen America. I will protect the rights of all Americans and ensure fairness for our Alaskan family values. Eliminating common core is the right next step for securing better Alaskan education, by promoting choice we can build a more prosperous future for our communities and families. I will uphold laws protecting our rights and ensuring our way of life. I will promote a strong national defense as Alaska is a strategic top of the world location. I believe in regular audits, checks and balances for all government processes. By promoting a lean and stable government and keeping our promises to our senior citizens and veterans. As a veteran I will work to ensure timely and responsive programs securing individual rights for the future.
