Position Statement

My name is Bob Craig. I am running for Lieutenant Governor of Alaska alongside Adam Crum.

I have spent my career serving Alaskans through medicine and community leadership. As CEO of the Alaska Heart and Vascular Institute in Anchorage, I led a healthcare organization dedicated to keeping Alaskans healthy and close to home. I understand what it takes to lead complex organizations, manage resources, and serve people with skill and integrity.

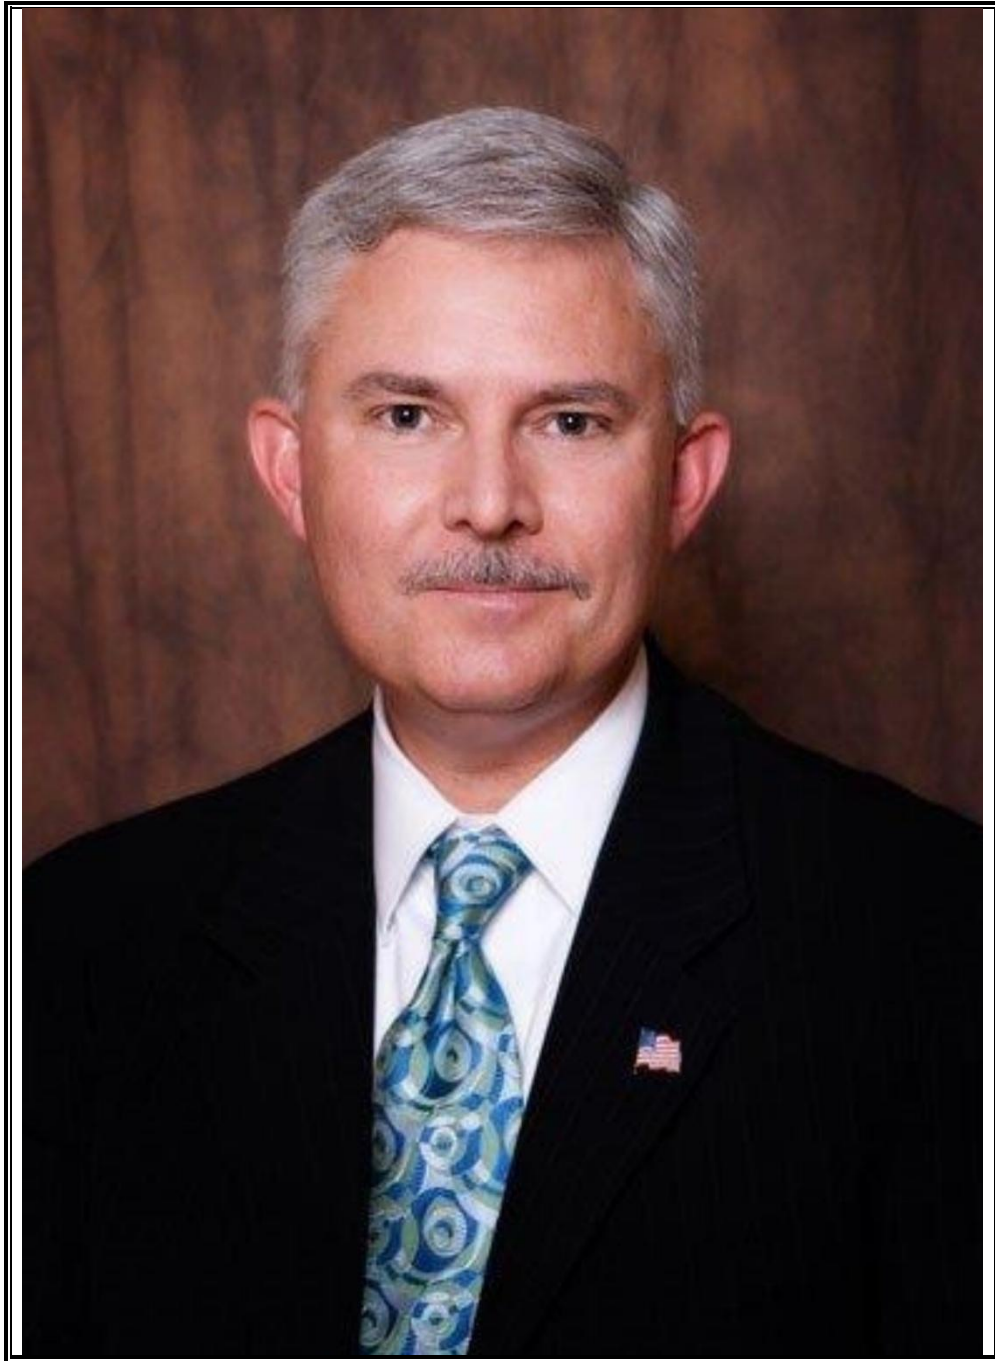

Alaskans deserve a lieutenant governor who is ready to serve on day one. I have managed large teams, navigated state and federal regulations, and built partnerships across the public and private sectors. That experience translates directly into effective government.

My commitment is simple. I will support Governor Crum in building an Alaska where families can stay, businesses can grow, and communities can thrive. I will bring the discipline and accountability I learned in medicine to every function of the lieutenant governor's office.

We must protect our resources, safeguard our permanent fund, and build an economy that works for all Alaskans, from the Kenai Peninsula to the Interior to the Bush.

I ask for your vote and your trust. Together, we will keep Alaskans in Alaska.
