Position Statement

Alaska needs a government that is responsive, transparent, and accountable. I am committed to leading with integrity, protecting life, strengthening election integrity, responsibly developing natural resources, and supporting strong communities. The government should live within its means, balance budgets, and follow the law regarding the Permanent Fund Dividend. I will not hesitate to use the veto pen when necessary to protect taxpayers, enforce fiscal discipline, and ensure government remains accountable to the people.

As the only candidate with both legislative and executive experience, I understand how government works and how to get results. I have exercised executive authority, participated in the impeachment process, and upheld Alaska's constitutional principles. I will work to restore trust in government, defend individual liberties, and support the reinstatement of Grand Jury rights. My goal is to partner with Alaskans to build a stronger economy, safer communities, and greater opportunities for future generations.
