STATEMENT:
I am running for reelection because I remain passionate about getting Alaska’s fiscal house in order, promoting a strong and expanding private sector economy, and most importantly, advocating for the rights of my constituents
in District 25.

I fully support the gas line and the Alaska LNG project.
I have made this clear through my working relationship with the Governor and my work as House Minority Leader.
I have consistently supported development of Alaska’s resources, and I believe the LNG project remains a critical opportunity for Alaska’s long-term future. I fully intend to continue working toward getting this project across the finish line because Alaska’s future depends on big bold projects like this one.

My additional priorities are straightforward:

- Strengthening the private sector economy.
- Opposing new state income or sales taxes.
- Prioritizing the PFD.
- Promoting further development of our oil, gas, and mining industries.
- Protecting Alaskan’s hunting and fishing opportunities.
- Supporting Alaska’s veterans and seniors.

I believe in small government focused on essential services,
and that the people know best how to spend their own money. We must keep private businesses free from excessive government regulation, keep our state budget as low as possible, and fight against the creation of new taxes.

When we put the people first, Alaska will again live up to our motto, “North to the Future.” I ask for your vote on November 3.
