OTHER:

I led community movements to rebuild Su-Valley High School and to transform the leadership at Sunshine Community Health Center. I will lead the charge in the legislature to ensure affordable housing and that schools are fully and forward funded so families in Alaska can thrive instead of barely surviving.

STATEMENT:

Thirty years of business and non-profit work in all aspects of business management, bookkeeping, tax preparation, contracts, negotiation, Federal Aviation Regulations, crisis management, training and mentoring people has prepared me to hit the ground running in Juneau, where I'll fight for policies that help hard-working Alaskans keep more of what they earn.

My Key Priorities:

- Protect the PFD; ensure a fair share for Alaskans.
- Diversify and invest in small and mid-size energy projects; move quickly to reduce energy costs for Alaskan families and businesses.
- Enhance reliability and efficiency of the power grid.
- End AIDEA boondoggles and return that money to the Permanent Fund.
- Fully fund public education with multi-year funding.
- Require public accountability for proposed data centers prior to approval.
- Ban legislators from voting on issues that would financially benefit them.

My goal is to bring back the connection between hard work and productivity to a good life and a future full of opportunity for our kids. I will fight to make the system work so corporations, who have reaped the benefits of our resources, contribute their fair share to fund education, roads, housing, health, and childcare for the benefit of Alaskan families.

I have served my community the same way I plan to serve the people of my district: a lot of hard work, positive attitude, and all-in dedication. I will always advocate for District 30 and work with others in the legislature to ensure the costs for working families in Alaska remain front and center.
