OTHER:

Elexie Moore proudly serves as the Alaska State Representative for District 28. Raised on her family's farm in the Mat-Su Valley, she brings a strong work ethic and commitment to public service. As the only Mat-Su member of the House Finance Committee, she has advanced the Alaska LNG gasoline project, passed legislation strengthening agriculture, vehicle title transfers, and cryptocurrency fraud protections, while securing funding for early intervention services for Alaska's children.

STATEMENT:

I am running for re-election because I believe Alaska's best days are still ahead. Our families deserve a strong economy, affordable energy, safe communities, excellent schools, and a government that lives within its means.

As your representative, I have worked to deliver real results by supporting responsible resource development, advancing legislation that cuts government red tape, strengthening protections for Alaska families and seniors, supporting agriculture and food security, and securing funding for early intervention services that help children succeed. I believe elected officials should solve problems, not create more of them.

I will continue fighting for fiscal responsibility, protecting the Permanent Fund, growing private-sector jobs, and expanding opportunities for future generations. Alaska has every resource needed to thrive if we have the courage to develop them responsibly while preserving the freedoms and values that make our state unique.

My husband and I are raising our six children in the Mat-Su Valley, and I understand firsthand the importance of safe neighborhoods, strong families, and opportunities for the next generation. I will continue to be a consistent, accessible, and hardworking voice for District 28, listening to constituents, showing up, and putting Alaska first.

Together, we can build a stronger, more prosperous future for the Mat-Su Valley and all of Alaska.
