Biographical Information

Age: 40

Other (Biographical Information):

Reece lives in the Anchorage community of Spenard. Reece grew up in Northern New England, originally coming to Alaska in 2005, at 18 years old, in search of adventure. He volunteered with the Iditarod Sled Dog Race that first visit, and after working several Race checkpoints, Reece fell in love with Alaska. Reece has returned to Alaska for work nearly every year since 2005, and officially became an Alaskan resident in 2019. Reece is currently employed as a paramedic, with professional experience in public safety (Fire and EMS), healthcare, communication technologies, and logistics. Reece has also held other jobs as needed to make ends meet, including several Alaska summers in the hospitality industry. Reece does not have any relatives in Alaska, and owns no businesses or real estate. Recently, Reece discovered how strange it feels to write in the third person.

Position Statement

I'm reluctantly running for office, partially out of desperation, since I cannot continue to merely hope things will get better. I'm exhausted from over 10 years of political scandals and corruption, and I've decided to stop whining. I'm hoping to "be the change" I wish to see.

Many of our problems simply come from greed, and it is pushing our society to the brink of collapse. I'm Non-Partisan because our political parties foster this greediness, and perpetuate dysfunction.

We need to fight corruption and enact term limits for Congress and the Supreme Court. We need to end deficit spending and stop funding vanity projects and pointless wars. We need to close corporate tax loopholes which are hurting consumers and small businesses.

We need to raise taxes on billionaires to discourage wealth hoarding.

The taxes we do spend must go to actually help people: Universal Healthcare, fully funded Social Security, and new infrastructure investments to withstand climate change.

We also need to affirm and protect personal liberties and defend human rights, for all humans.

I don't have the ego or vanity to become a lifetime politician, but I'm tired of waiting for someone to come fix things. I'm a "regular guy"- I work an hourly job, and I rent an apartment in Spenard. I don't have any family or business connections, and I don't have any significant wealth. I have no allegiance to political parties and no obligations to corporations. I just want things to get better. For everyone.
